Three Day Week Planned For Flood Control Program on Mississippi River

BY LYLE C. WILSON
United Press Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON, Oct. 21.—Individual suffering this winter will be prevented by administration measures now under way to relieve unemployment, it was said at the White House today on behalf of President Hoover.

It was estimated approximately 3,500,000 persons were idle.

The immediate program, it was stated, is for a survey of the problem looking toward co-operation of municipal, state and federal agencies.

Welfare bodies and similar organizations will be drawn into the plans.

Selection of Col. Arthur Woods, former police commissioner of New York, to take charge of the development of an organization to handle the unemployment problem this winter was announced.

These developments took place today immediately following the first meeting of President Hoover's special cabinet committee appointed to deal with unemployment.

At the same time, Secretary of War Hurley announced the war department was prepared to institute the three day week on flood control projects along the Mississippi river if necessary to provide more employment in that area.

"Three days a week would double the number of employees and at least would be a meal ticket," Hurley said. He promised the war department would spend every dollar it had available, the expenditure of which would require employment of labor.

While these measures were being taken by the federal government, municipal authorities and citizens in numerous localities were moving forward with various plans to avert the pinch of winter hardship.

Minneapolis embarked on a million dollar program which it was hoped would provide work of 12,000. Boston endeavored to raise a budget of $3,000,000, two-thirds of which was to be raised by popular subscription, to relieve idleness. Philadelphia and Muskegon, Mich., launched

Bird Picture Will Be Printed Again

The Register tomorrow will print again a picture of the Mourning Dove, this week's bird picture, which children are coloring in an effort to win prizes in a contest sponsored by this newspaper. The drawing will be published again in order that any contestant who did not see the picture last Saturday may be sure to complete.

Those who are coloring the bird will find plates in the window of Watkins Bootery, Fourth and Sycamore streets, in the juvenile library on Fifth street and in the window of the Register business office. These plates show exactly how the birds should be colored.

HIGHEST COURT STILL UPHOLDS VOLSTEAD LAW

Early Attitude Unchanged After Popular Discussion

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21.—(UP)—Popular discussion of prohibition apparently has failed to weaken the attitude of the United States supreme court in cases involving the 18th amendment and the Volstead act, rulings today indicated.

The court, which always has given an interpretation construing cases liberally in favor of strict prohibition enforcement, today refused to review the petition of a Stanley C. Campbell, Buffalo, N. Y., in which he attacked the constitutionality of both laws.

Campbell has been fighting the law for several years, in fact from the day some eight years or more ago when he stood on the steps of the Buffalo federal court building and invited passersby to drink wine with him.

Campbell contended the prohibition laws were a violation of his guarantees of personal and religious freedom and an invasion of state rights.

In a second appearance here he sought, by a civil action, to have the court pass on the law, which was upheld in Rhode Island test case, early in the law's history, it was this appeal that was denied today.

The court then threw out in quick succession other prohibition cases. One was from a conviction in Cleveland of a restaurateur who was convicted of selling a drink. Another was from a court ruling that supposed employees of a distillery could be punished for operating the still. The other two were highly complicated questions involving the right of search and seizure in a parked automobile and the right to try as a second offender when the other offense was committed subsequently to his arrest in the trial case.

The court, in its short session, passed on more than 150 cases most of which were dismissed.

WASHEBURN, Wis., Oct. 21.—(UP)—George Froseth, assistant postmaster of Washburn for 20 years, murdered his wife and four children today and then killed himself.

The bodies were discovered shortly before noon when Postmaster W. A. Robinson went to the Froseth home when he did not appear for work.

Froseth, who was 60, used a carpenter's hammer to kill his wife, Edith, 50, and their children, Neal, 12; Adelaide and George Jr., twins, 9; and James 6.

George Jr., apparently had struggled with his father before he was killed. The boy's body was found in the kitchen while those of the rest of the family were found in their beds upstairs.

Chief of Police James Long, who broke into the Froseth home when he was called by Robinson, said apparently Froseth had become demented and slain the family systematically.

Robinson said Froseth had imagined himself ill for several weeks but that physicians had assured him his health was good.

Without a telephone at her home in Fairfax, Mrs. Sutton started early today for St. Anselmo to tell authorities that her son, 11, was ill and would be unable to attend school.

Rebels Plan Big Drive On Brazil City

Citizens Given Chance to Join Liberals or Evacuate

RIO GRANDE DO SUL, Brazil, Oct. 21.—(UP)—Brazilian rebels were ready today for their main drive on the city of Sao Paulo, reports received by revolutionary headquarters here indicated.

Colonel Joao Alberto, commanding the rebel advance column near the Parana-Sao Paulo frontier, issued a proclamation addressed to the people of the city of Sao Paulo assuring them that "the liberal army has no intention of bombarding open cities." He said that rebel airplanes would fly over the city for military reconnaissance, but that the inhabitants had nothing to fear.

It was said here that residents of Sao Paulo would be given an opportunity to join the revolt, or evacuate the city, before it would be subjected to any rebel bombardment.

Advices received here said that half the states of Espirito Santo and Mato Grosso were in the hands of the rebels. It was reported that forces organized to defend Cuyaba, capital of Mato Grosso, had revolted from the command of Colonel Lima Silva and that Major Rabello, a rebel, had taken command of the troops as well as the presidency of the state.

Colonel Lima was reported treating towards the Bolivian frontier with the 17th battalion of chasseurs.

JAIL 'BUGS' MORAN AS VAGRANT TODAY

WAUKEGAN, Ill., Oct. 21.—(UP)—George "Bugs" Moran, Scarface Al Capone's chief rival for the spoils of crime in Chicago's underworld, was arrested and sent to jail today as a common vagrant.

Immediately the wheels of justice were set spinning to make it certain that he would be at the command of Chicago authorities to contribute what could be expected from him toward solution of such unsolved mysteries as the St. Valentine's day, 1929, massacre of seven of his followers, and the murder of Alfred J. Lingle, Chicago Tribune reporter.

California Makes Record On Murder

SACRAMENTO, Calif., Oct. 21.—(UP)—California set a new high mark for murders in this state during the first nine months of 1930, with one occurring every 38 hours. The total was 252 up to October 1.

The state bureau of criminal identification found that July had 35 slayings as the largest total in one month, while March had the lowest, with only 15 persons killed.

Calvin Coolidge Says

By CALVIN COOLIDGE
Former President of United States
NORTHAMPTON, Mass., Oct. 21.—Anybody with any experience in public life can see that the next session of every legislative body in the country, from the congress down, will be deluged with all kinds of proposed nostrums for preventing depressions in industry and agriculture with resulting unemployment. Already business is beginning to shudder at the prospect. Instead of being able to look to government generally for encouragement and relief, it recognizes that these proposals will be a deterrent to business recovery. At the bottom of all these measures will be found an appropriation carrying a large expenditure of public money which would result in more taxes. If business can be let alone and assured of reasonable freedom from governmental interference and increased taxes, that will do more than all kinds of legislation to relieve depression. Local governments are justified in spending all the money necessary for direct relief of distress. But the nation and the states will only increase the difficulties by undertaking to restore confidence through legislation. It will be the part of wisdom to give business a free hand to supply its own remedies. This is not time to take counsel of the legislative visionaries.

FINAL REPORT UNDER WAY ON BILLINGS CASE

Mooney Appeal Also May Be Decided Soon By Court

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 21.—(UP)—California justices of the supreme court prepared today to make their final report on the second pardon application of Warren K. Billings, convicted with Tom Mooney of the 1916 San Francisco preparedness day bombing which killed 10 persons.

A statement made yesterday by Chief Justice William A. Wason promised the court's opinion on the request would be made to Gov. C. C. Young "as soon as it is humanly possible." The members of the court, he said, were devoting every minute of their available time to minute consideration of the case.

Only affidavits of the utmost importance would be listened to in the future, the statement said, in order to avoid any unnecessary delay.

An intimation was also made that the latest appeal for a pardon.

REPORT BURNING OF 600 CHINESE

SHANGHAI, Oct. 21.—(UP)—Six hundred Chinese were reported burned to death or drowned in a fire on the Wuchow river front today, according to dispatches from Hongkong.

The fire started in a riverside restaurant and spread rapidly, destroying scores of boats and buildings, the reports said.

Wuchow is an industrial and shipping center on the Si-lan river in Kwangsi province, Southern China, 150 miles west of Canton. It is a port of some 100,000 population. The river usually is packed with boats, tea houses and native traders, and the river front, which is the city's amusement center, fire in the congested district would spread rapidly through the shabby built wooden structures.

Storms In Spain Cause 14 Deaths

BARCELONA, Spain, Oct. 21.—(UP)—Storms in the province of Tarragona, bordering on the Mediterranean, have caused 14 deaths and extensive property damage, reports received here today said.

Numerous dwellings were reported destroyed and 20 ships sunk in the harbor of Tarragona. Several persons were reported missing and many received grave injuries.

CITIZENS WILL BE VISITED BY CHESTWORKERS

Residential Area Canvass Will Be Launched Tomorrow

TOMORROW MORNING will see some 200 volunteers at work throughout the city in behalf of the Community Chest campaign. These workers are to meet this evening at the First Christian church for inspiration and instructions for their task, and Wednesday will mark the start of their general canvass.

"People should understand that these workers are volunteers," said President E. T. McFadden, of the Chest organization. "These workers are our fellow citizens who are giving their time to the campaign because they feel that it ought to be done. Not one of them receives a cent of pay for the work. They are entitled to a courteous and friendly reception on the part of those on whom they call, for this is a task which belongs to all of us."

"We ask that the people of the city receive the workers in a kindly spirit, and save their time by being ready to make the pledges promptly and generously. If questions arise, or if arguments are invited, the workers have neither the time nor the disposition to undertake such discussions. The office of the Community Chest at 503 North Main street is open to give out information on any matter connected with the agencies. Let us make this a great community festival of good will, and give as generously and as promptly as we are able to do."

Non-Residents to Help

Letters are being sent to a list of non-resident owners of property in Santa Ana, to give them an opportunity to bear their part of the load. J. P. Baumgartner is sending out the letters, pointing out the fact that the investments of non-resident landlords are secured in their value by the conditions in Santa Ana, and that they are responsible for bearing some share of the burden of welfare work as a protection to their investments.

"We feel justified in asking you to help," the letter reads, "because of your property holdings within the city limits of Santa Ana, which are being steadily enhanced in value by reason of the growth of the city. And a large factor in this growth, we think you will

After Stephenson received the blueprint, he endeavored to save the big oak tree on the north side of the property by writing to Morris and pleading for the tree. In Morris' letter to Stephenson, he stated that he would recommend a change in the plans which would put the building further south on the property and thereby save the tree.

Before advertising for bids, there is still some checking and writing to be done, but this is a matter of routine that should not take much time, he reported.

CLAIM PLEDGE TO JEWS REPUDIATED

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21.—(UP)—Conditions in Palestine were deplored in a resolution adopted at the final session of the American Jewish congress here. The resolution also accused the British government of repudiating a pledge to the Jewish people.

The action was taken in connection with the recommendation of Sir John Hope Simpson to the British government that immigration to Palestine be suspended until after an official census. The resolution declared the Simpson report biased and "a breach of the mandate which was ratified by the league of nations and approved by the government of the United States."

Letter To Stephenson Tells Plan

Slight Change In Location To Save Oak Tree

STEPHENSON had a letter from Morris today, answering a letter written by him asking that a fine oak tree located on the north side of the property be saved.

Plans as seen here from a blueprint of the new building show that the federal building will be located almost directly on the corner of Seventh and Bush streets and with no yardage at the north side. A side yard is seen on the south side of the property.

HOOVER TO GET LIQUOR REPORT ABOUT NOV. 15

May Not Be Satisfactory To Some Dry Groups

BY PAUL R. MALLON
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
WASHINGTON, Oct. 21.—Those in the highest authority here expect the Wickersham crime commission to make a prohibition report shortly which may not be entirely acceptable to some dry organizations.

The document will be drafted when the commission resumes its secret sessions here November 5, the day after election. It is to be sent to President Hoover probably about November 15 and may be forwarded by him to congress in December.

Portions of the report already have been agreed upon, according to those in a position to know. They say the commission has decided there will be no "pussy footed" or dodging in its summary of its investigations and in its recommendations. The prohibition issue will be met frankly if not sensationally, it is said, and in a way which may not meet the approval of those who have been championing the dry act.

The matter of prohibition has been very thoroughly threshed out among the commissioners and has caused at least one member to offer his resignation—Federal Judge William S. Kenyon of Iowa, an outspoken dry. His retirement offer is now reported to be in the hands of Chairman Wickersham. Previously two other commissioners are reported to have been dissatisfied—Dean Roscoe Pound, of the Harvard law school, and Kenneth Macintosh, Washington state supreme court justice.

Kenyon is understood to have agreed to withhold action for the time being. The resignation has not yet reached Mr. Hoover's desk and the White House has declined to discuss it.

Technique In Suicide Proves Faulty

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 21.—(UP)—Deciding to commit suicide, R. L. Dunn, who weighs 250 pounds, tied a rope around his neck, the other end to a light fixture, and jumped off a chair. All he did was pull out the fixture.

Then he cut his throat. That didn't kill him, so he slashed his wrists, then his elbows. Two detectives and a doctor were called. They decided he was dead.

As he stood at his bedside, Dunn suddenly "came to life," jumped up and began fighting them. They subdued and handcuffed him.

"Aw, take off the handcuffs," said Dunn, "I used to be a detective myself." The doctor said Dunn will recover.

MOSCOW, Oct. 21.—(UP)—The Soviet union declared direct economic war today against countries discriminating against Soviet imports.

The council of peoples commissars issued a decree establishing a series of reprisals in direct answer to French, Hungarian and Roumanian restrictions on Soviet imports.

The official press emphasized that such reprisals would be enforced on products of every country which in any way interferes with the normal entry of Soviet goods—a threat directed at the United States, Poland and other countries where there has been agitation against Russian products.

COUNTY NOT TO JOIN SUIT FOR LAND AT BEACH

Orange county will probably not join the state of California in the condemnation proceedings recently instituted to gain possession of beach property between Newport Beach and Huntington Beach, which is proposed as the site of a state park. It was stated today by county officials.

The suit is to be carried to conclusion by the state, with a definite price set on the land by the court, before the county steps into the picture, it is stated. This information was gleaned from Supervisor John Mitchell, who is representing the board of supervisors in the park matter. The district attorney stated that judgment in the condemnation proceedings for the state would act in the form of an option good for one year and that this would enable the county to ascertain whether it would be able to raise its share of the purchase price.

The price fixed by appraisers on the tract is $618,000 and the county share would be $309,000. Funds for this purpose would probably be raised by a bond election. The condemnation suit was filed so that a definite price would be determined on the property, thus arriving at a figure to be presented in the event that a bond election was called.

The supreme court recently sitting as a board of review gave more than a month to hearing testimony of new and old witnesses concerning Billings' share in the bombing. Mooney, because he has only been convicted once, made his appeal direct to Governor Young for freedom from life imprisonment in San Quentin state prison, while Billings, convicted of a former felony, was forced to appeal to the supreme court to free him from a like term in Folsom prison. The supreme court acts as a fact finding body for the governor in such cases.

Niaouou, or Tin Can Island, according to Commander Kepler, is an ideal tropical South Sea island. The thermometer goes up to 85 or 90 degrees in daytime but the nights are as cool as 58 degrees.

Not alone are the scientists in the party studying the eclipse. Dr. T. A. Jaggar of Honolulu, seismologist, has set up seismographs in various spots and made some interesting observations of the volcano and last year's eruption which destroyed the village of Futu.

Dr. M. C. Kellers, through the magic of lollypops, has most of the children on the islands gathering specimens of the flora and fauna. He has secured several specimens of a curious bird, the Malau, which is the size of a pigeon but lays eggs as big as those of a turkey. The Malau lays these eggs three to six inches deep in lava dust and then never returns to the spot, leaving the young birds, after they hatch, to dig their way out and shift for themselves.

Some idea of the amount of labor that had to be performed between the arrival of the first party on the island on August 21 and the date of the eclipse can be gained from the fact that all of the equipment had to be landed at the base of a 75-foot cliff and concrete pillars had to be constructed upon which to mount the major equipment. A radio station was set up to afford communication with the outside world and receive the naval observatory time signals, essential to successful timing of the observations.

Success of the scientific expeditions in photographing the 93-second total eclipse of the sun resolved itself into a matter of luck. The expeditions had a 65-foot camera, in focus early this morning. Cloudless skies would enable the scientists to make priceless studies of the phenomena.

Should the skies be cloudy during the brief period of total eclipse, plans to test the Einstein theory, and plans to study the structure of the atom, would go awry.

Under favorable conditions, however, the expeditions, including scientists from the Naval observatory, Ohio Wesleyan university, Swarthmore university, the California Institute of Technology and the University of Virginia, should record facts of great value in the scientific world.

It was planned to test during the eclipse at least partially the Einstein theory of relativity. Einstein forecast 15 years ago that photographs of a total eclipse would show star images shifted from their normal position near the sun, with the brightest of the stars becoming visible as the sun's light is blotted out by the passage of the moon.

Dr. Samuel A. Mitchell, director of Leander McCormick observatory of the University of Virginia, and author of "Eclipses of the Sun," planned to study the structure of atoms in the sun's flaming atmosphere.

To Report Thursday
The first report meeting of the campaign workers will be held on Thursday noon, at the First Christian church, where luncheon will be served by the ladies of the church, and the results of the canvass to date will be announced. A great deal will depend on the work done during these first two days of the effort, and great hopes are being entertained by the managers of the campaign for a fine and encouraging showing at the first report.

PROJECTS TO SUPPLY JOBS INAUGURATED

ed "buy now" drives which were expected to speed up business and industry generally.

DES MOINES, Ia., Oct. 21.—(UP)—The number of Iowa unemployed has been depleted by 1,500 as a result of construction of three pipe lines across the state.

More than 1,100 men already are at work, a call was out for an additional 150 today, and a third contingent of 150 will go to work November 1.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 21.—(UP)—Employment to 1,000 men will be furnished by street improvement projects costing $850,000 voted last night by the San Francisco board of supervisors. Three hundred thousand dollars of the money will be expended in improving the approach to the bay shore highway, a measure expected to speed up traffic down the peninsula.

CHICAGO, Oct. 21.—(UP)—Appeals went out to the 3 1-2 millions of Chicago today to give food, shelter, clothing, money or work to the thousands of unemployed, many of them hungry and ill of exposure.

Major attention was given to providing jobs, temporary or permanent to destitute men and women. Social agencies began investigation of poverty stricken homes and found them to be without fuel or provisions.

Two newspapers turned their resources toward providing unemployment. "A job a minute" was the slogan of the Chicago Daily News, which donated free advertisements in its "help wanted" columns for prospective employers.

The Chicago Tribune speeded up its free employment bureau. Both newspapers urged citizens to make use of their systems to obtain either permanent or temporary help.

Hundreds of men were turned away from the shelter houses opened by charitable organizations and philanthropic business men.

The building donated by William Wrigley, chewing gum manufacturer and owner of the Chicago Cubs baseball team, sheltered 400 men and meals were given to several hundred others today.

The old county jail building housed 146 destitute men and a few hundred others were cared for by the Salvation army and similar organizations.

A "voluntary tax" plan under which every working person would contribute part of his wages to the less fortunate was proposed today by Anton Cermak, president of the Cook county board. Cermak proposed that employed persons give one tenth of their earnings to charity.

Employment for $1000 men was provided by the city government, which transferred $390,000 to the water pipe extension department where work will be started at once.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Allen were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. Chapman, of Long Beach, on a motor trip to Loma Linda Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Carter, of Los Angeles, enjoyed their beach cottage on Bay View drive over the week end.

Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Johns, of Bay View drive, entertained Mrs. Johns' brother, Bill Talbot, and Miss Laura Fees, of Monrovia, over the week end.

Mr. and Mrs. John Allen, of Bay View drive, were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. William Chapman, of Long Beach, Saturday evening.

Mrs. J. Reynolds, of Los Angeles, entertained a host of friends over the week end at their beach home on Park avenue.

Mexican Accused Of Knife Threats

One man was arrested on a charge of possession of marijuana and another was arrested on suspicion of assault with a deadly weapon at Richfield last night by Deputy Sheriffs A. L. Steward and Joe Thornhill.

Juan de la Torres is being held because he is asserted to have chased another Mexican down the main street last night with a knife. The pursued was the best runner, however, and as far as officers could ascertain, no damage was done. De la Torres was arrested a short time later.

While Stewart and Thornhill were searching for D. la Torres they met Rubin Torres, 20, who is said to have had a marijuana cigarette in his pocket. He was arrested immediately and brought to the county jail.

PIGEONS ON PLANES

MONTREAL—In case of mishap, airplanes in the Royal Canadian air forces patrolling forests, are carrying carrier pigeons along. If the pilot is forced down, he releases one of the birds which is expected to return to the home airport to summon aid. This system in the majority of cases has proven successful.

Miss Helen McCoy, of Occidental college, spent the week end at her home here.

JURY FOR MURDER TRIAL IS SELECTED

A murder trial got under way in superior court today with the selection of a jury which is to hear the evidence against Jesus Ordaz, who is charged with murdering Emma Chavez, with whom he was living in Placentia, last June.

Ordaz, it is alleged, shot the woman in the back and slashed her throat and arms with a razor, then turned the gun on himself, inflicting a wound in his mouth and left breast, neither of which resulted in serious injury.

Indications are that the case will be hotly contested, with District Attorney Z. B. West and Deputy District Attorney W. F. Menton handling the prosecution, and former district attorney, Alex P. Nelson, and Raymond Ray acting as defense counsel.

ROBOT PLANE GUNNER

WASHINGTON—The War Department is testing a robot anti-aircraft gunner which will automatically determine the range and direction of guns used in fighting invading planes. It will be able automatically to determine range and direction of fire so that projectiles and the moving plane will reach the same point at the same time, it is said.

TRUCK DRIVER IS INJURED IN HIT. RUN CRASH

Harry Miller, Anaheim truck driver, was in the Anaheim hospital in a serious condition today as the result of an accident yesterday afternoon at the intersection of Magnolia avenue and Buaro road.

According to a report of the accident filed at the sheriff's office by L. D. Reynolds, Miller's employer, the driver of the truck which collided with the Miller truck failed to stop and render aid.

Miller is suffering from a fracture of the skull, several broken ribs and a broken arm.

The accident report stated that the driver of the other truck stopped for a minute and then dashed away, leaving the injured man in the road. F. W. Howard, chief criminal deputy sheriff, working on the case last night and today, failed to find any trace of the other car, he reported. He stated that the door of the truck which left the scene of the accident was broken off in the crash.

REPORT 200 INJURED BY HUGE BLAST

Heartrending scenes occurred at the pit head, where the weeping of women relatives mingled with the cries from the injured. Thousands of people and hundreds of automobiles arrived at the scene. Fortunately, medical aid and hospital accommodations were plentiful.

The force of the blast rocked the vicinity of the mine with earthquake intensity and demolished several houses and buildings. Windows were shattered within a radius of several miles. It was reported that several of the victims were working underground and were killed or injured by the force of the explosion or the collapse of buildings near the mine entrance.

Aachen is on the Belgian frontier, 44 miles southwest of Cologne. Rescue workers were able to operate from several points near the explosion, for there are extensive tunnels and mining shafts in the area. Relief workers were assembled at Aldorf, eight miles from Aachen, in the hope that they might conduct any entombed men by working through mines in their own area.

Search for bodies and entombed workers was carried on through lateral tunnels in the Aachen district.

milking barns, where every precaution against dirt is taken as the milk is drawn from the cows and sent to the coolers before being bottled.

Concrete is used wherever possible because it is easily kept clean, even the lane from the corrals to the milking barns being of concrete so that dust or mud shall not be tracked into the barns. Milking is done by hand in the barns, which are open to the air and sunshine on both sides, and all milkers are required to pass a physical examination. The cows are all washed and rubbed down before each milking and the milkers are required to scrub their hands thoroughly and don fresh uniforms as they approach the task.

The milk is then strained under conditions to prevent possible contamination and then sprayed inside an ice cold tank. Here it is kept until bottling time, being agitated mechanically from time to time to insure that there will be no separation of milk and cream before it is bottled.

The bottling is done mechanically, the cold milk flowing in enclosed pipes to the moving racks where an endless stream of sterilized bottles is provided to receive the milk. It is automatically capped. The bottles are scrubbed and sterilized and rinsed until they are absolutely as clean and sanitary as it is possible.

STUART H. LUCAS, SUPERVISOR CANDIDATE, IN CHALLENGE TO JEFFREY TO DEBATE CHARGES

At a political gathering at Coast Royal in which Stuart Lucas, the leading candidate in the supervisorial race in the fifth district, discussed the issues of the campaign, he said:

"Mr. Jeffrey, in his self-laudatory advertisement, covering nearly a page in the Balboa Times of last Thursday, says that he is a man who is thoroughly capable of conducting the affairs of our district fairly, I want to ask him if he was conducting them fairly when he sought to burden his people with 40 years of high taxes for a dam they didn't want?"

"Was he conducting them fairly, confidence and friendship of the other four members of the board, which is necessary if we are to get anything during the next four years? In that connection, I will caution you that you will very likely get something you are not looking for, if he should be re-elected, and that is another desperate attempt to put over their pet high dam project."

"In conclusion he further states that 'He is a man who would not sacrifice the best interests of his constituents to advance his personal interests,' and also 'A man who would not just for the sake of being elected make promises that he knew he could not keep.' By implication, in these statements, he would have you believe that I, his opponent, am just the reverse of his own high order of character. I now and here challenge Mr. Jeffrey to personally debate against me, at any time or place he may select, these various vague but insinuating charges, and thus allow our audience, and the people of the fifth district, to decide who the 'mouth-piece' really is in this contest. They can decide which of us, in truth and fact, would not favor a few at the expense of the majority,—and more particularly, which of us the great majority of the people and taxpayers of our district WILL AGAIN TURN TO FOR HELP IN THEIR TIME OF NEED should the Sixteen Million Five Hundred Thousand Dollar dam project be brought forth from its present hiding place in an attempt to once more mortgage the future prosperity and welfare of our people—and incidentally there are some things in regard to Mr. Jeffrey's record of such a nature that I would like to have him face to face when I present them rather than this long range shooting, so that he and his political gang cannot charge that I am hitting below the belt."

"I ask Mr. Jeffrey to publicly debate these things with me, he to fix the time and place before November 4, and I earnestly hope he has the nerve to do it."

The father of Mussolini was a blacksmith by trade and strongly anti-religious and revolutionary in his opinions. His mother was a school teacher and, unlike the father, was a devout Catholic.

"He also further seeks to beguile you by the statement that he is 'a man who would himself represent the people of the fifth district, and not be merely a mouth-piece.' Daringly he invades very dangerous territory in that brave statement for 'only fools rush in where angels fear to tread.' Mr. Jeffrey, was it the people of the fifth district that delegated John Mitchell and Bill Schumacher et al and sent them post-haste to Newport Beach for a conference with you immediately after the primary election in August, in the interest of your presidential campaign—or was it the special interest of Orange county's well known self-seeking politicians? Just whose supervisor will YOU be if it were at all possible for you to be re-elected?"

"He further says he is a man who has the respect and confidence of the other four members of the board of supervisors, and he wishes you to believe that he has it to such an extent that said board will not tolerate any other member the majority of the voters of the fifth district may elect. The audacity and insult of such a claim at our present board, is only equaled by many other political indiscretions of Mr. Jeffrey."

"He earnestly desires to impress that important fact upon your memories, for in that same advertisement he repeats,—'He has the ability to make them before the milk is poured in.'"

The process is an interesting one to watch and the Raitt dairy people are hoping that many Santa Ana residents will avail themselves of the opportunity to watch a raw milk producing plant in operation. Children are specially invited to see how the milk is obtained and handled so that they may have it, fresh and pure every day.

YELLOW JACKET ACTORS READY FOR NEW PLAY

By curious coincidence, two of Santa Ana's prominent musicians are taking part in the next Community Play, both of whom have appeared in only one other Community play, "Yellow Jacket." Earl Fraser, who is taking the leading part in "She Stoops to Conquer," was a musician in "Yellow Jacket." Leon Eckles played a prominent acting part in "Yellow Jacket" and will long be remembered by the virile way that he played the part and by his rich, vibrant voice.

In "She Stoops to Conquer," he plays the part of Sir Charles Marlowe, the father of the hero. The story of the play revolves around his planning to have his son marry the daughter of his best friend, and with the complicated results so likely to follow such an arrangement.

It is eight years since "Yellow Jacket" and so there are many people here who have never seen Mr. Eckles in an actor's role, and will be especially interested in seeing him display his talent in this direction. He is well known to Santa Ana audiences, however, for he has been conductor of the Cantando club ever since its organization. He has taught voice and violin in Santa Ana for several years.

"She Stoops to Conquer" will be given in Ebell auditorium Thursday, Friday and Saturday nights, October 30 and 31 and November 1.

FIREMEN TOLD OF PROPOSITION NO. 2

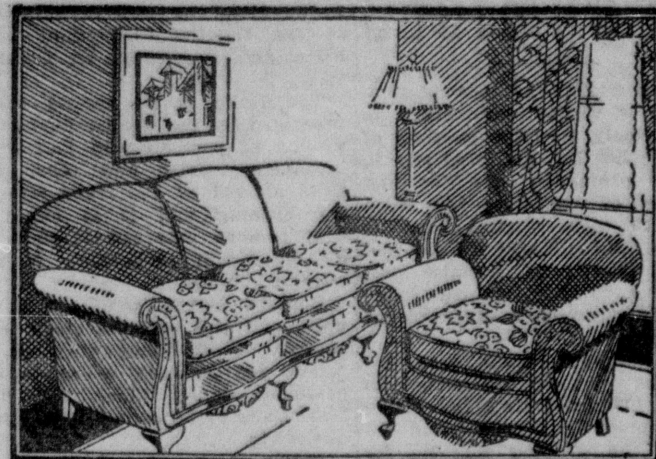

Orange county firemen met at the American Legion hall here last night to hear talks on proposition No. 2 on the ballot at the coming election. Speakers were J. L. Stevens, state fire marshal; John Colton, engineer of the State Underwriters' association; Fire Chief Fuller, of Pasadena, and R. D. Flaherty, executive secretary of the Orange County Farm bureau. Flaherty gave a talk on fire protection in the rural districts, stating that it was hoped to work out a plan whereby fire protection in the county would become unified.

A program of dance numbers was given by pupils of Josephine Hardin Biddle and refreshments were served.

LIQUOR FINES BRING $980 TO CITY TREASURY

Fines aggregating $980 were levied in the Santa Ana police court yesterday against persons arrested over the week end on liquor charges.

Two men, arrested over the week end on charges of driving automobiles while under the influence of liquor, drew fines of $250 after the charges had been reduced to reckless driving. EXCHANGE GETS NEW RULING ON CONTRACT JOB

Of considerable interest to all contractors engaged in the building trade is a new ruling issued by James F. Collins, director of department of professional and vocational standards, relating to abandonment of contract, according to advice received here by Frederic Sanford, secretary-manager of the Builders' exchange.

According to the ruling of the state registrar of contractors, it will be the policy of his office hereafter in interpreting the law referring to the abandonment of contract, to consider the refusal to pay the stipulated sum set forth in the contract as compensation for performance of work by subcontractor, as an act in illegal abandonment of the contract made by the general contractor with the subcontractor.

It must be shown, however, that a definite sum was agreed upon to be paid for the work of the subcontractor, the ruling states. It also will be necessary for the complainant to show that the work was completed according to the terms of the contract, that demand for payment has been made, and either refused, or that the attitude of the defendant was such as would indicate a lack of intention to pay, it was added in the bulletin setting forth the ruling.

SPEAKER TELLS CLUB TOLD OF STATE AFFAIRS

If members of the Business and Professional Women's club feel any special puzzlement regarding the various amendments to be voted upon at the approaching election, it will be through no fault of Mrs. Louise Mock, president of the League of Women Voters, for Mrs. Mock yesterday gave one of the clearest and most comprehensive talks on political affairs ever heard by members of the club.

It was the usual Monday luncheon meeting of B. and P. W. and Miss Nancy Elder, October program chairman, presented the speaker, who spoke on various political matters in addition to her keen summing up of the amendments. Among these was the governor's council into which the 126 state commissioners have now been assembled into 13 divisions, meeting monthly with Governor Young, sometimes in the northern section of the state, sometimes in the southern. Mrs. Mock has attended two of the meetings, which are open to the press and the public, and expressed the keenest interest in proceedings.

"California has grown so rapidly that she has really outgrown her constitution," declared the speaker in telling of the proposed committee to revise the constitution, and advising the clubwomen to watch for the reports of this committee, which are to be presented at the next meeting of the state legislature.

In summing up the amendments to be voted upon shortly, Mrs. Mock refused to give any advice as to the manner in which the women should vote, asking that they determine this question in their own minds, aided by a thorough study of the "for and against" booklets and the explanations she had offered of each question in turn.

In addition to the programmed feature there were brief talks by Guy Gilbert, speaking on parks and playgrounds, and Frank Humphreys on the Community Chest.

Martha Whitson of the finance committee announced a public card party which the clubwomen will present on Friday night, November 7, in the inn, as a means of raising funds to maintain a small boy at the Orange County Health camp. Each member was asked to be responsible for the sale of four tickets.

Bridge prizes will be donated by various members of the club, while others will give home-made cakes and candy. R. L. Blaby, inn manager, will donate the coffee. It was pointed out that this would be the final social affair to be given by the B. and P. W. in the inn.

Yesterday's talk on a political theme was considered an excellent introduction to the political science study which the club will undertake under the direction of Mrs. Loyal K. King.

MERCY BULLET

WASHINGTON.—A hypodermic bullet has been invented by Capt. Barnett Harris, big game hunter, for use in capturing animals alive. The bullet is fired from a gun, but instead of a leaden slug forcing its way into the tender flesh of the animal, a needle is forced into the skin by contact. This needle injects a sleeping potion into the animal.

CIVILIZATION AND MINERALS ORANGE TOPIC

ORANGE, Oct. 21.—A 6:30 o'clock dinner served by members of the Trinity Episcopal church guild in the Parish hall was the opening feature of the meeting of the Men's club last night. Directors were elected and L. W. Thomas and D. C. Drake were chosen for these positions.

W. M. Cummings was the speaker of the evening, giving a talk on "Civilization and Minerals." There has never been a great civilization where there has not been an adequate supply of minerals, Mr. Cummings said.

The speaker traced the histories of great civilizations and the part that minerals had had in them from the time of the stone age to the present time. Carthage was great because she controlled the tin supply of the world, the speaker said. The club was organized some years ago and is a non-sectarian, non-partisan organization. A program included two solos by Mrs. W. C. Armstrong with Mrs. J. G. Reese as her accompanist. The Rev. J. G. Reese of the El Modena Friends church sang two solos, Mrs. Reese accompanying him.

After the dinner and program members of the club gathered around the blazing fire in the wide fireplace for a further discussion of the interesting talk of the evening. Dinner was served under the direction of Mrs. Hattie Davis, with Mrs. Walter Gregg, Miss Leontine Tracy, Mrs. W. C. Armstrong and Mrs. J. E. Arrowsmith as her assistants. Mrs. Mar C. Brandriff is the president of the guild.

PARK PLANNED ON CAMP SITE IN BEACH CITY

NEWPORT BEACH, Oct. 21.—A new policy in regard to the Newport Beach municipal auto camp, which is expected to result in considerable building and other development in the vicinity of Fifteenth street, was announced by members of the city council at yesterday's meeting of the Newport Harbor Chamber of Commerce directors.

According to this plan, Councilman Paul B. Ellsworth said, the eastern end of the camp will end at the eastern end of the Southern California Edison company's building, which is about 300 feet west of its present eastern boundary, at Fifteenth street. The property between that point and Fifteenth street will be beautified and eventually will probably be transformed into a beautiful park or civic center.

Just east of Fifteenth begins El Bayo Balboa tract, bought this year from the Pacific Electric Land company by Otto G. Wildey and company, and now being developed as a high class residential center. This property has bay frontage and the Wildey company was among the foremost advocates of moving the auto camp from its present location or at least eliminating the part next to its land.

Wildey, at a recent meeting of the chamber, intimated that some beautiful building and other development will take place on the new tract if such a plan as announced yesterday goes through. Mayor M. J. Johnson and Councilman A. J. Garfield were also at the chamber meeting.

The present entrance to the auto camp at Fifteenth street will of course be closed and one entrance, at Nineteenth street, opened.

This plan seemed to meet with the approval of chamber directors, both those who were for and against the maintenance of the auto camp at this location, and a chamber committee, headed by W. L. Jordan, which had been investigating the matter, was dismissed and thanked, inasmuch as the proposed council action will solve the matter for the present, it was said.

Ellsworth said that 1929 had been the highest season in the history of the auto camp in the matter of revenue. This was the year, he said, when there was a two-weeks limit on occupants part of the season, and also when the charge for space was highest.

A. D. Edwards, 20, of 1109 South Cypress street, was arrested by Santa Ana police officer, E. E. Perry last night for Huntington Beach police. The youth is reported wanted there on a charge of petty theft.

Women are said to be more adaptable in acquiring a better accent and style of speech than men.

Five Men Jailed On Drunk Charges

Five men were arrested in Santa Ana on drunk charges during the past 24 hours, bringing the total to 17 since Saturday night. Those arrested over the week end were fined in police court yesterday.

V. R. Hudgens, 44, of 995 East Brown street, was arrested at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon by Officers N. C. Nelson, who also arrested Carl Prough, 37, who was reported begging on the street. Nelson arrested him for being drunk in the 600 block on South Van Ness street.

John Owens, 56, was arrested by Officers Perry and Foster for being drunk at Fourth and French streets at 5 o'clock yesterday and Y. N. Kane, of 515 West Washington avenue, and Jack Spikes, 23, of San Juan, were arrested at the same intersection later. All were lodged in the county jail.

DELAY ACTION ON PROTESTS ON FLOWER ST.

Pending completion of arrangements between the city government and the property owners which would not only eliminate friction and unnecessary delay but at the same time expedite the realization of the undertaking, no action was taken last night by the city fathers on two different protests filed with the council against the proposed improvement of North Flower street. Hearing on the protests was postponed for two weeks.

One of the protests, filed by property owners on North Flower between Washington and Seventeenth, objected to the proposed widening from 40 to 70 feet and requested that the plans be either revised or abandoned. The property owners, however, have indicated a willingness to deed the city sufficient frontage to permit a width of 60 feet, it was learned.

The other protest came from owners of property on North Flower between Santa Clara and the bridge across the Santiago creek, objecting to the construction of sidewalks in that section of the thoroughfare.

A special committee composed of Councilman John L. McBride chairman, and Mayor Frank L. Purinton, acting in the capacity of a member of the council, was appointed to confer with the property owners in the upper portion of North Flower street regarding proposed improvements.

INN'S PAYROLL FOR SEASON AT $40,000 TOTAL

Recent decision to abandon the operation of St. Ann's inn and its sale to the county for a court house office annex will have one reaction that many persons have overlooked in thinking of the matter, it was learned today from R. L. Blaby, manager of the famous hostelry, which is to close its doors after December 1. It will be equivalent to losing an industrial plant in some respects.

Blaby pointed out that the institution has a pay roll of between $30,000 and $40,000 per year and that an additional $50,000 to $60,000 was expended annually with the merchants for supplies. "This expenditure in Santa Ana of between $80,000 to $100,000 per year will cease when the hotelence closes its doors," he declared. "And in addition there will be the loss of money spent with Santa Ana merchants by guests at the hotel."

"The institution only lacked about $3000 per year of breaking even and this was being gradually cut down each year. That is not a bad percentage to spend in keeping business in the city amounting to approximately $100,000 annually." Blaby stated that the hotel has reservations for Sunday dinners each week from out of the city for between 75 and 100 guests, and that it is a popular place for wedding and birthday dinners and parties. The main dining room has a capacity for 500 diners and is used for many city-wide affairs each year, including the Home Products banquet, the D. A. V. Military ball, service club parties and weekly meetings and conventions.

Chinese Herbs

Every intelligent American knows that the older races cured their ailments with herbs. Owing to the mixed foods and rapid maturation of the individual of today, they are more susceptible to liver, stomach and kidney trouble, which eventually upsets the system and causes a general rundown condition, where often a malignant disease occurs, resulting in an operation as the only relief.

Why not avoid this by keeping your body and blood built up? If you are suffering and have found no relief, why not try our Herbs before your case is too far gone?

I have been helping the sick, my Herbs have done wonders for many people in Los Angeles and Long Beach for the past twenty-eight years. Why not convince yourself?

ART DISCUSSED AT SESSION OF WOMAN'S CLUB

ORANGE, Oct. 21.—"Sculpture is trying to take the place of painting, painting is trying to take the place of music, music is trying to take the place of mathematics and mathematics is trying to be God," declared Louis Danz, of Anaheim, at a meeting of the Woman's club here yesterday afternoon. "All are trying to reach one harmonious thought," the speaker declared.

Mr. Danz was introduced by the club president, Mrs. Leon Des Larzes, and exhibited examples of art beginning with a photograph of Venus de Milo and ending with pictures of the most modern schools of art. The work of Greek artists is cold and beautiful and the famous statue is one of beautiful geometrical lines, the speaker said.

"At the time the Venus de Milo was made the Greeks had no feeling for distance, astronomy was forbidden—they had no feeling for the depth of the past and future and as a consequence their works of art lacked the depth which developed in the early centuries of the Christian era," Danz said.

"Great artists turn their backs on tradition, the speaker declared, fighting against it rather than conforming to it. Art is born early in the springtime of the culture of a civilization and the latest culture to appear began shortly after renaissance. There is no culture in the flower of civilization and culture rises into maturity in the beginnings of a civilization. Sometimes culture crystallizes as in the case of the Chinese."

Mr. Danz exhibited copies of a number of famous paintings in the order in which they appeared down the centuries. The Rambrants first showed depth and feeling, he declared, and in them for the first time paintings assumed an autobiographical aspect rather than mere form and cold beauty.

In "The Last Supper," Jesus became humanized and the halo was for the first time omitted from above his head. The halo had appeared early in the fifth century and previous to that time was seen around the head of dieties and India and China, he said.

"Art is changing and today in creative art we are trying to reveal ourselves—the revelation of self seems to be characteristic of today and the libraries are filled with books of biography and autobiography," he said.

"Mona Lisa was the first picture in which the horizon was ever shown. Artists are not concerned with the nature of objects in a picture, a knife placed diagonally is not a knife, but a diagonal line, and a deer becomes a curved line in a harmonious assembling of curves."

The early impressionist painting by French artists were shown as were those of the cubist, and the futurist school. Unique paint-

EX-GOVERNOR FIRM BELIEVER IN NEW SARGON

Former Governor Clifford Walker, of Georgia, twice honored with the highest office the people of his state could give him, is prominent among the thousands of well known men and women throughout America who have publicly expressed their gratitude for benefits they have obtained from the use of Sargon. He recently said:

"Not being stalwart in physical strength, it has been my custom for several years to recoup my physical energies at each change of season with some tonic. Owing to close confinement in my office, and rather sedentary habits of life my physical condition was such that I decided to take a course of treatment at Battle Creek. During recent years, in fact, I have been compelled to resort almost continually to laxatives and other special hygienic measures to maintain my health."

"This season a friend of mine suggested Sargon. I was convinced from literature which I read that it was a scientifically prepared product and decided to try it."

"Almost from the start its invigorating effects were noticeable. I seemed more alert, my appetite improved, my capacity for work was increased and I was conscious of a feeling of general well-being. I have gotten by the summer and am now entering the fall season with more energy and a better physical tone than I have experienced in many years."

"From my own experience I am convinced that Sargon contains certain therapeutic agents which are highly valuable wherever a tonic impression is required, and also for their influence upon the appetite and digestion." From its effects in my case I cheerfully recommend it as a tonic and corrective worthy the trial of all tired business men."

Schramm-Johnson, Drugs, Agents, 4th and Sycamore Sts.—Adv.

ings shown were those which showed Negro feeling in development and those which were painted by a French artist whose mind had never developed beyond that of a child.

Some pictures are folk songs translated into paintings, the speaker said. He related how the cubists had begun their work because a famous French artist had said anyone who could paint a cube or a cylinder could paint anything. It is impossible to paint anything but the surface of these objects and the artists never attained their objects, Mr. Danz said.

At the request of club members Mr. Danz played one of his own compositions, "In the Cool of the evening."

The girls' recognition service will take place November 23 and on December 7 special music and features will be arranged by the high school Christian Endeavor.

The Girls club of Whittier is to sing on December 14 and on December 21, the Sunday before Christmas, music is to be selected and presented by members of the choir.

WATER PLANS WIN APPROVAL AT GATHERING

General approval of participation by the Orange county flood control district in the surveys and studies of basins and underground reservoirs that is proposed by the state, was voiced at a luncheon meeting at noon today in Ketter's cafe attended by all members of the board of supervisors and engineers and leaders in water interests in the county.

It was revealed that the state intends to proceed with the studies and surveys regardless of whether or not the county water interests co-operate in the matter and that more general good and better results would follow if the county joined in the matter. It was suggested that the legislature might be more favorably inclined to include Orange county in the appropriations for future work if it could be shown that the county had been interested and had participated in the work, rather than holding aloof.

Those attending the meeting, in addition to members of the board of supervisors, were John Knapp, of Garden Grove, farm bureau member; Roy Brown, engineer for the Irvine company; Harry Hale, of the Anaheim Union Water company; Earl Gardner, of the Teller Drainage district; A. N. Saxton, of the Santa Ana Valley Irrigation company; L. E. Evans, Carpenter Water company; Murray Thompson, flood control engineer, and L. Robinson.

FIVE INITIATED BY JUNIOR LIONS CLUB

Five pledges to the Junior Lions of the Santa Ana junior college were taken in last night at the meeting of the service club at Ketter's cafe.

Following the dinner, the candidates, Richard Robbins, Paul Wright, Mitchell Hookins, Lauren Griggs and John Crowley, were given the first degrees of Lionism. An entertainment program was then held, consisting of dancing numbers by Miss Freda Harlin of the Fanchon and Marco circuit, and piano solos by Miss Yvonne Bruner.

Business matters discussed included the bonfire rally for women's night, the football game and a golf match with the Brotherhood of Bachelors. Members present were Virgil Brown, Ed Meador, Willard Minor, Omar Williams, Oran Asa, Ray Glesener, Nelson Conway, Martin Bowman, Truscott Lindsey, John Smith, John Wykes, Eric Twist and Les McDonald.

MIDWIVES' WORK DECREASES

MADISON, Wis. — Employment of midwives at child birth has decreased from seven per cent in 1920 to 3.27 per cent of the 55,619 births reported in 1929, the state health department disclosed today. The midwives were employed to greater extent last year in 22 Wisconsin cities having a population of 10,000 or more than in rural communities.

S. Morrow, district manager of Orange county.

Heading the Orange county delegation was Morrow, having been connected with the telephone company for more than 30 years. Others included in the county delegation were E. S. Bolles, C. H. Adams, R. J. Travers, A. A. Crawford, A. L. Tomblin, A. B. McDavid, L. W. Pettitt, R. W. Gillespie, C. C. DeWein, E. T. Brannon, B. O. Scottock, C. J. Lea, E. A. Trombley, T. Prather, W. W. Nichols, C. W. DEATH OF MAN UNDER WHEELS HELD ACCIDENT

Death in an accidental manner, produced when he was run over by a Pacific Electric train, was the coroner's jury verdict in an inquest held over the body of an unidentified man at the Grooms and Riesenbergs funeral parlors at Costa Mesa this morning. Coroner Charles Brown was in charge.

In the meantime, sheriff's officers and the coroner continued today in an effort to learn the man's identity. No success along this line has been reported, according to Herman Zabel of the sheriff's office identification bureau.

The man apparently was asleep on the tracks when he was killed at 7 o'clock Sunday night. It was brought out at the inquest. The body was not found until 9 p. m. when the motorman of another car saw the body at the side of the tracks and brought his car to a stop to investigate.

The head of the man was almost severed by the wheels of the car and it was at first believed that he had committed suicide. There was nothing in his clothes to identify him.

Man Must Serve Two Jail Terms

The judgment of a six month's term in the county jail, which was imposed in connection with a $500 fine on Roy Brown by Judge James L. Allen yesterday, is to become effective at the conclusion of a term Brown is now serving in the county jail on a charge of theft of fruit. It was previously reported that the sentence was to be suspended at the conclusion of the theft term, but is in fact suspended until the expiration of that term, when it will go into effect, so that Brown will serve the full length of both jail terms consecutively.

Brown was found guilty by a jury of a charge of simple assault, after a trial on a charge of assault with a deadly weapon with intent to commit murder.

NAME LEADERS OF HIGH SCHOOL PUPILS' CLUBS

Leaders and faculty advisors for the five new boys clubs, which are being organized at Santa Ana high school, were chosen at a meeting yesterday.

It was definitely decided that there would be three or four leaders for each of the five organizations and that the clubs would be limited to a membership of 20. It is hoped that local service clubs will sponsor the clubs.

One of the activities which the clubs will sponsor is the forming of a Rally committee which will be chosen from the members throughout all of the organizations. This committee will have charge of such school functions as pep meetings, dances and picnics.

The names of the clubs will not be decided upon until the club has its full quota of membership. Bill Kistinger, Gene Hall, Paul Jacques and Lynn Chamberlin will act as the heads for one club with Glenn Wooley as advisor. Another club leaders are George Munroe, John McFarland, Paul Woods, Bob Spurgeon and Phillip Hood. The advisor has not been selected.

Alvin Rehoin, Floyd Blower, Duncan Harnols and Harry Bradley will lead one club while Fred Eley, John Hoy, Bill Rasmussen and Jack Wright will head another. The faculty advisor is T. P. McKee. The last club has not its full quota of leaders having only two consisting of Bill Gibbs and Minor Whitford. Stuart Carrier is the sponsor for this league.

BURGLAR SECURES $750 IN JEWELRY

The sheriff's office was today investigating two burglaries in widely separated parts of the county, reported yesterday, but which occurred probably Sunday, according to reports.

Jewelry valued at approximately $750 was taken from the summer home of W. L. Weiss, at Aliso Creek, sometime over the week end by a thief who entered the house after breaking out a window. It was reported.

Valuables listed as stolen were: gold watch, $150; gold watch, $60; wrist chain, $40; necklace, $150; diamond pin, $150; numerous small pins, $100 and a piece of tapestry, $50.

Burglars entered the home of Henry Stuck on Trask avenue, one half mile west of the Buena road, Sunday night and stole valuables worth $250.

A watch, worth $35, an opal ring with three stones, a garnet ring and a cameo ring were taken, together with numerous small pins, a green gold pendant and a string of pearls, it was reported.

INTERSECTIONAL CLAIMS

Among the claims for intersectional honors, the South has presented a strong case this year. And when the name of the team to play the Pacific coast in the Tournament of Roses game is announced, don't fall over if a southern team gets the call.

Southern football established a claim for consideration a few years ago when the Crimson Tide of Alabama beat Washington in the Rose Bowl. Then came Georgia Tech's Tornado, which left Notre Dame and California gasping for air.

This year, along comes Dan McCugin's Vanderbilt eleven to roll up a score of 33 to 7 against Minnesota. Vanderbilt might have made even more points but for bad breaks which called the ball back from scoring territory. The full significance of the Vandy victory was not appreciated until the Gopher hosts smacked Stanford right between the eyes with a scoreless tie.

THAT GEORGIA GANG

Then, Georgia beat Yale, scoring one of the major upsets of the season. Georgia was not given a tumble by most of the handicappers, with Albie Booth leading the fight against the southern eleven. The balance, poise and speed displayed by Georgia was outdone only by the fighting qualities of the team. Georgia had to crowd a lot of football into a few minutes to nip the Bulldogs. Yale had a lead of 14 to 6 in the third period, and the game looked to be safe. The turning point came when Quarterback Downs of Georgia pulled a most unexpected play on Yale's 35-yard line. It was fourth down with five yards to go and a punt seemed obvious. Chandler completed a pass to Catfish Smith and a Yale tackler didn't even get close to the fish.

Raving always is a bit boring, but I like the fight that Georgia team showed. The team that comes from behind is the team to watch.

THE TENNESSEANS

At Tennessee, where Hackman and McEver roam the chalklines, defeat has not been known in the last 23 starts, and only four opponents have tied the Vols. It takes a great team to go for more than three years without a defeat, even though all of Tennessee's games are played within its own Southern conference. It is a team many fans through the north and east would like to see in action against the Army or another eleven with a good intersectional reputation.

Wallace Wade, having his last year at Alabama before moving on to Duke next season, is putting a team on the field that rivals any in the country for power and poise. Sington and Clements, at the tackle posts, are as good as you will find on any team in the country.

The South is no longer a "comer" in football. Southern teams have established their ability.

COMMERCIAL PLAYERS

Red Grange, the erstwhile Slithering Spook of the gridiron, comes dashing around end with a serious charge, and perhaps something ought to be done about it. "One of the things I can't understand," says the Wheaton ice peddler, who now is playing halfback for the professional Chicago Bears, "is why anyone should say

WARNER, PRICE 'THROW MUD' Dons To Play At Pasadena Saturday

HAPES BETTER, MAY START IN JAYCEE LINEUP

With prospects of being better equipped physically than they were for Compton, the Santa Ana junior college Dons blotted out memories of the 6-6 deadlock with the Tarantars today and turned to the task of upsetting Pasadena Saturday.

The Millionaires have won only one game but are leading the league in percentages, having drawn a "bye" on the first playing date. They down Fullerton 6 to 0 last week and that is proof enough they will be tough for the Dons. But the Santa Ana march to another Southern California Jaycee championship will be broken if the Bulldogs win so the Dons have set their hearts and minds on a victory.

Hapes Needed in Backfield It is hoped that Clarence ("What-A-Man") Hapes will be in condition to play after a siege of water on the knee. The former Garden Grove fullback is a tremendous factor in Coach Bill Cook's power plays and when he is sitting on the bench the Dons lack most of their punch. Elmore Lord, regular halfback, has been alling with a bad foot and didn't see action against Compton but will be back in the lineup Saturday if needed.

Kermit McCoy, first string guard, who has been out with a hurt foot is in suit again too. Kioshi Shige-kawa, second string fullback, who had a fractured collar bone and Howard Rose, third string fullback, with a hurt foot, are both practicing daily and may see action this week end.

Emmett Seacord seems to have temporarily broken his "jinx" for he played the whole game against Compton without getting hurt. Bert Wilkins, another fullback, who was slightly hurt against the Tarantars, is his old self again and may get to lug the ball some more against Pasadena. Curt McCoy, guard, who was out for some time with a bad foot, showed by his play Saturday that he is in good shape again.

Guards Battle For Jobs The play of all the guards was far above average, for that matter, and the two McCoy's and Gene Olsen and Phillip Martin are still warring a merry battle for the posts. All four are capable players with none having any decided edge. The play of Bill Harkleroad in the backfield continues to impress although Melvin Beatty and Franklin Van Meter have just about clinched the starting halfback posts.

Hal Dunham and "Toby" Groenow are sure bets at end. Dunham played the whole game in a stellar fashion against Compton while Groenow lasted over three quarters. It was Dunham who blocked the kick that gave Santa Ana its touchdown against Compton.

Last year, in the first game of the season, Pasadena visited Poly and went home on the short end of a 6 to 0 score. In 1928, the score was 12 to 12 so the teams will have some old grudges to settle. John Selixas, former Alhambra high school end, captains the Bulldogs.

Officials of the 40 and 8 of the Orange County American Legion, now affiliated with Henry T. Foust in promoting bouts here, feel elated over the increasing crowds at each succeeding show.

Hiebe To Face Charles Gus Hiebe, Los Angeles heavyweight, and Tim Charles, of San Bernardino, meet in a return match of 10 rounds. This one promises plenty of action as those who will attest who saw their six-round battle which ended by the referee calling it a draw, after Hiebe had won most of the way and had Charles sprawling on the floor twice during the last round.

The winner of the rematch will receive 75 per cent of the purse, while the loser must be contented with 25 per cent and the good thrashing that goes with it.

Homer Gaines, the Mexican! Wildcat, beat Baby Sal Sorio two weeks ago, lost a close decision to Joe Guerrero, asserted Mexican lightweight champion, and beat Len Porter, all feature events, but drops back here to fight the semi-final of six rounds with Joe Soldi-var, the hard hitting Mexican who recently beat Freddy Hawkins, much touted San Bernardino lightweight.

Galvis On Card Joe Galvis, Filipino lightweight champion, upset things last Friday night at Hollywood when he gave Young Papke a sound thrashing and his first defeat since entering the ring. This was in a semi-final at the movie city arena. Galvis previously lost a close decision in a feature event to Joe Guerrero, after having Guerrero on the floor twice. Galvis is booked to fight Battling Ortega in the six-round fight at Delhi. With about 95 per cent of the alleged "stars" refusing to meet the tough Ortega, it is easily seen that Galvis is one of the very few fighters willing to meet them all as they come, no matter how tough.

Four middleweights are paired in the four-round bouts with Dan Hassett, of San Bernardino, and Tommy Thiel, of Los Angeles, in the second spot, and Cliff Caraway, of Santa Ana, and DeWitt Martin, of Willowbrook, opening the show.

'PESSIMISTIC POP' AT IT AGAIN BUT CARDS LOOK GOOD

Things don't look so tough "down on the farm" at Stanford in spite of "Pop" Warner's pessimistic moans, and here are a few of the boys that make the Card's dream of a conference championship seem near realization. Top row, left to right: Caglieri, 208-pound halfback, with plenty of speed; Rother, the most improved player on the coast; "Pop" himself; Phil Moffatt, signal caller and halfback, and Pete Heiser, guard. Lower row, left to right: Dick Bogue, veteran tackle; Bill Simpkins, a real triple threat; Capt. Ray Tandy, tackle; Perry Taylor, center, and Phil Neil, who is probably the coast's best end.

RIVAL COACHES ARGUE AS BEAR TACKLE BANNED

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 21.—The long distance football warfare between "Nibs" Price, California, and "Pop" Warner, Stanford, had become today a matter of personalities and acrimony.

The oral end of the dispute had its origin with Price when he was interviewed regarding the probable effect on his Bear varsity of the banning of Nick Blean, tackle. Price exploded:

"The thing is just the result of petty slouching on the part of 'Pop' Warner. If it takes that kind of thing to be coach at Stanford all I can say is I'm glad I haven't got the job."

Says Players Angry "Furthermore, Warner will find that it isn't going to help him in the 'Big Game.' All of my team is sore because of the Blean banishment on a slim technicality—and Warner's likely to find he'll need everything he had November 22, and even that may not be enough!"

"I think it's a piece of low, sportsmanlike business on Warner's part."

From Palo Alto, came Warner's reply: "This outburst of Price's sounds to me like he is trying to build up the old fight in his men for the 'Big Game.'"

"He has no real grievance. Stanford abides by the rules of the coast conference and I don't think it unreasonable that we ask opponents to do the same."

"It was all right a few years ago when California protested our best back, Norman Cleaveland, two days before the 'Big Game,' but it isn't all right now when we inquire about the status of a man admittedly ineligible."

Blean was ruled ineligible by the California faculty when it was pointed out that he played a year at Willamette college before transferring to Sacramento junior college, where he played two years. Actually this is his fourth year of college competition, but, according to a recent ruling of the conference, he is "docked" a year for the transfer, making him ineligible.

Jimmie Rivers In Match At Fresno FRESNO, Oct. 21.—Hailed as one of the most promising battles scheduled in the San Joaquin valley in months, Joe Vargas, Fresno's favorite middleweight, meets Indian Jimmie Rivers of Fullerton, here tonight in the 10-round main event.

Vargas today ruled the favorite, despite the fact that Rivers showed up better against Larry Murphy of San Francisco than Vargas.

HE PLAYS, TEACHES Francis McElligott, the Chicago pepper box, who quarterbacks Marquette university's football eleven, also is an instructor in journalism in the university.

Josephine Cruickshank, Santa Ana's national intercollegiate tennis champion, will appear in a series of exhibition matches on the Anaheim city park courts on the Armistice Day program to be sponsored by the Anaheim post of the American Legion, L. E. ("Tex") Middleton, chairman of the Legion athletic committee.

The Santa Ana girl, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Cruickshank, recently returned from the east where she participated in all the major tournaments, winning the intercollegiate crown without the loss of a set. She is the country's tenth ranking woman player.

Miss Cruickshank will play Helen Marlowe of El Monte, one of the junior sensations of this year's national tournament, and the girls will be paired with Ellsworth Vines of Pasadena, and Lester Stoffen of Los Angeles in mixed doubles.

Vines is four Pacific Southwest champion and is ranked ninth among the nation's best.

Another sports attraction on the Legion's Armistice Day program in Anaheim is a football game between Anaheim and Brea-Olinda high school teams which will meet in an Orange league battle.

EDDIE CASEY MAY SUCCEED NORWEEEN

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Oct. 21.—(INS)—Eddie Casey may succeed Arnold Norweeen as Harvard football coach but official confirmation of reports to that effect was lacking today.

It was reported that Casey, who at present is backfield coach under Norweeen, who announced his resignation effective at the end of the season, will be in full charge of the coaching staff when football practice gets under way next year. It has been understood for some time that Casey would be elevated to the office of head coach on Norweeen's withdrawal.

PAPKE, FORMER CHAMP, TO SEE DELHI PROGRAM

Billy Papke, middleweight champion of the world when fighting was fighting, and his promising son, Billy Jr., who is now cutting quite a figure among the good middleweights of Southern California, will be guests of honor at the Orange County Athletic club Thursday night, Matchmaker "Pop" Barrett announced today.

The former champion, who won his title by stopping the great Stanley Ketchell in 12 rounds, Jack Johnson being the only other man to ever turn the trick, will confer with Matchmaker Barrett regarding a match in which Billy Jr., will box some leading middleweight at the Santa Ana club in the near future.

Officials of the 40 and 8 of the Orange County American Legion, now affiliated with Henry T. Foust in promoting bouts here, feel elated over the increasing crowds at each succeeding show.

TROJAN SQUAD HARD AT WORK FOR CARDINALS

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 21.—With the Trojans fighting to regain the prestige on the gridiron that received a setback recently when Washington State defeated them 7 to 6 and with the Cardinals battling to avenge a pair of shutout defeats received at Troy's hands in 1928 and 1929, University of Southern California and Stanford football teams will clash at Stanford Saturday in what has come to be regarded as one of the greatest games of the year throughout the country.

Southern California's team, in a fighting mood because certain "experts" have prematurely relegated it to the scrap heap for the season because of its defeat in Washington, will leave here Thursday at 7:45 p. m., arriving in San Jose at 7:45 a. m. Friday and going to the Castledown Country club, about 30 miles from the Stanford campus, for a day of rest and seclusion before the annual battle.

Trojans Respect Rivals Fired for the fight of their young lives by the oratory of "Head Man" Howard Jones as well as by his coaching lessons, the Southern Californians will not go north misled by comparative scores or Stanford's somewhat lackadaisical showing against its opponents so far this season.

The Trojans are convinced that the Cards have been holding back their power and so far have been striding easily through their opponents in order to save up a double-barreled attack October 25, a date that is destined to be both auspicious and awful, depending on whether one's colors are Red or Cardinal and Gold.

Light work physically but heavy labor mentally will be in order for the Southern Californians this week. Monday night was devoted to dummy scrimmaging with the Trojans first brushing up on their own plays and then working out against Stanford formations. Tuesday and Wednesday the practice will be a little more spirited with a few minutes of real scrimmaging for part of the squad. Thursday's practice session will be a brief one, while on Friday morning a final short limbering up period will be observed at the Castledown Country club.

Starting Lineup Unknown Just what Southern California's first team will be against the Cards will probably remain a deep mystery until just before the game. There is a doubt as to whether

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 21.—A veil of secrecy again was drawn around the University of Southern California training camp as the Trojans geared for Saturday's game with Stanford. Marger Apist and Tay Brown, two Trojan hopefuls benched by injuries, were able to take part in scrimmages and signal practice.

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 21.—Coach Tom Lieb sent his Loyola Lions through a stiff workout today to round off rough edges for the game with University of San Francisco, formerly St. Ignatius, at Wrigley field Saturday night.

CLAREMONT, Oct. 21.—The Pomona Saguens practiced steadily today for the important conference game with Redlands university here Friday night. The Bulldogs are expected to give Pomona one of its hardest conflicts of the season.

PALO ALTO, Oct. 21.—Unless Stanford pulls itself together, it runs the chance of an overwhelming defeat next Saturday when the Cardinals meet the Trojans from University of Southern California, according to followers of football along the Pacific Coast. U. S. C. has become a big favorite to win.

BERKELEY, Oct. 21.—The regular California eleven, given a rest last week in the Olympic club game, were going through a stiff pace today in preparation for the coming game with Washington university at Seattle. Coach "Nibs" Price will travel north with all his power available.

NOTRE DAME, Ind., Oct. 21.—Resting after a day of leisure, Notre Dame's football squad today faced a heavy workout in preparation for the Pittsburgh game. The Irish squad emerged from the Carnegie game somewhat bruised but with no serious injuries.

CAMBRIDGE, Oct. 21.—Charley Devens, Harvard backfield star, who has been benched with injuries, was to work out with Harvard today. If Devens shows well the backfield may be remolded around him for the Dartmouth game Saturday.

IMPORTANT GAMES SCHEDULED ALL OVER COUNTRY SATURDAY; NOTRE DAME TO OPPOSE PITT

By HENRY McLEMORE (United Press Staff Correspondent) NEW YORK, Oct. 21.—Although the season has a month or so to run, 1930 football reaches something akin to a climax Saturday when a score or more important games will be played.

No one section of the country holds a monopoly on Saturday's big game, but the east, with Notre Dame-Pittsburgh, Fordham-N.Y.U., Yale-Army and Dartmouth-Harvard, has more than its share. Add to these the colorful Navy-Princeton tilt, and the interesting Gettysburg-Buckness clash, and you have a program that will not be excelled during the year.

In the middlewest there is a comparative dearth of headlines, but the Purdue-Wisconsin and Michigan-Illinois engagement keep the Big Ten to the fore. Kansas and Iowa State and Oklahoma and Kansas Aggies are to battle in the Big Six. As stated before, the big one, meaning Notre Dame, travels toward the Appalachians for the Pitt game.

Interest centers in the south on the Vanderbilt-Alabama game. This game will, in all probability, produce the team to fight Georgia for the Southern conference title. Georgia meets up and coming Auburn; Georgia Tech meets Tulane; Kentucky tackles Virginia, and Florida meets Little Furman in other interesting Dixie games.

In the far west "Pop" Warner's tied but undefeated Stanford outfit meets Southern California at Palo Alto in the coast's big game. Washington State, with brilliant victories over California and Southern California, takes a "breather" against Montana. Other coast games are Oregon State vs. Pacific university, and Oregon vs. Idaho.

Southern Methodist's intersectional bout with Indiana at Dallas is the high spot in the Southeastern program, with an important conference game, Arkansas and Texas Aggies, taking the deuce spot.

For the second successive week Notre Dame's Irishmen find themselves involved in the nation's outstanding game. Last week their tussle with Carnegie was the big number, and this week it's the Pitt Panthers who must be taught not to dream of national honors too quickly.

Joek Sutherland's boys, encouraged by a win over sturdy Syracuse, will no doubt wage a determined battle, but Notre Dame, with "Moon" Mullins back to aid Savoldi and company in carrying the ball look a little too strong.

Saturday's game at Pittsburgh will mark the first time Notre Dame and Pittsburgh have met on the gridiron since 1912.

BEACH COUNCIL TO DECIDE ON GOLF COURSE WATER PROBLEM

Whether the proposed public golf course at Corona del Mar will get city water may be known definitely next Monday night, when the Newport Beach city council is scheduled to meet again.

City Engineer R. L. Patterson, water superintendent, reported at last night's meeting that if Joe Szarfinski, who proposes to build the course on Irvine company land, north of Corona del Mar, required 600,000 gallons a day he would have recommended against it.

However, it turned out that the requirements will be only 200,000 gallons a day, and often not that much. The matter was referred to the council's water committee.

Szarfinski, who has operated the old Orange county club east of Costa Mesa, says he has arranged for the financing of a fine 18-hole, grass-greens course, overlooking the bay.

The plan is to build a clubhouse near the city reservoir and not far from the coast highway. Owing to two new roads to the new high school in Newport Heights, the old course must be partially abandoned.

COACH TO TAKE BLANKETS OFF SAINTS FRIDAY

Coach "Tex" Oliver may take the blanket off his Santa Ana high school football squad Friday afternoon when his undefeated disciples swing into action against Pasadena at Poly field.

At no time this year have the Saints "shot the works" against their opposition.

They didn't have to against Orange and Roosevelt, early season non-conference rivals.

They didn't have to against Woodrow Wilson and Compton, comparatively impotent league competitors.

They may HAVE to open the bag wide to whip the stronger Pasadena Bulldogs, but yes or no Coach Oliver probably will instruct Captain Al Reboin, his quarterback, to "shoot the works" this week.

Oliver is a great believer in football psychology. He likes to fool the opposition, keep it in suspense. But the Saint skipper mixes common sense with his "magic wand" stuff. He knows it is better to TEST trickery at least once before employing under fire. He knows he will need something he hasn't shown when Santa Ana meets San Diego a week from Saturday. That is why he probably will take the wraps off the boys Friday.

The Saints buckled down to business today. Scrimmaging against Orange here, the Olivermen were expected to work on some of the new plays they have kept under cover so far this season. Some of Oliver's old reverse and double reverse plays, always scoring threats in high school football, are about ready to be hauled out of retirement. The coach still believes in them, even if he has gone in for other fashions this fall.

Alcoholism Held Girl Death Cause

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 21.—Acute alcoholism caused the death of Hazel Cole, 20, whose body was found in a Culver City apartment October 13, while Bobby La Salle, pugilist, was in a liquor stupor nearby, Frank Nance, coroner, announced today.

Morgan, M'DONALD CLASH AT OLYMPIC

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 21.—Tod Morgan, one time holder of the synthetic junior lightweight championship, and Hector Macdonald, Canadian and Pacific Coast titleholder, will meet here tonight in a 10-round bout described as an elimination contest for the legitimate crown.

Morgan hoped for a victory in order to strengthen a challenge for Al Singer's crown, and Macdonald had similar intentions.

Paulie Walker and Sammy Aguirre, welterweights, will fight the 10-round semi-windup.

CARIDEO BEST OF MIDWEST'S QUARTERBACKS

BY GEORGE KIRKSEY
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

CHICAGO, Oct. 21.—Many smart field generals are performing on Middlewestern gridirons this season.

Foremost, at least for the present, among the select quarterbacks of this region is Frank Carideo, Notre Dame's crack leader who won All-American honors by his direction of last season's undefeated team.

Again Carideo is performing in well high flawless fashion. Three of Carideo's outstanding qualities are his knack of seizing a break and turning it quickly to his team's advantage, his refusal to get flustered and his placing of punts.

Coach's Brother Stars
One of Carideo's foremost rivals is Lee Hanley, Northwestern quarterback and brother of the team's coach, Dick Hanley. He was the hero of Northwestern's 19-2 victory over Ohio State and shared honors with Frank Baker and "Pud" Reiter in his team's rout of Illinois, 32-0. Hanley is a hard runner and a good passer and kicker.

Three brilliant sophomore quarterbacks already have won their spurs in Big Ten competition before the end of October. They are Harry Newman, Michigan; "Chuck" Goldenberg, Wisconsin; and Lewis Hinchman, Ohio State.

Another Friedman?
Perhaps the best of this trio is Newman, hailed as another Benny Friedman after his intelligent handling of the Michigan eleven against Ohio State last week. But for Newman's clever direction Michigan might have been held to a scoreless tie instead of winning 13-0.

A fine quarterback who undoubtedly would shine more brightly on a better team, is Paul Stagg of Chicago, son of Coach A. A. Stagg. Stagg is the brains of the Chicago team, and has most of the Maroons' plays built around him. He is a good passer and receiver.

Captain Win Brockmeyer of Minnesota is another good quarterback in this section. He is a splendid open field runner and a good selector of plays. Jack White of Purdue, a dangerous runner, completes the list of this section's best quarterbacks. Iowa, Indiana and Illinois have no outstanding quarterbacks.

HOOKS AND SLIDES

by WILLIAM BRAUCHER

that pros don't care whether they win or lose. There's nothing that makes a fellow feel worse than getting licked. It's in your blood—the desire to win—and you can't get away from it."

It is a subject that could be argued pro and con far into the night.

THE DIFFERENCE?

Judging by the number of stars produced every year by the colleges, it sometimes occurs to us as strange that there are not many more professional teams than there are. Why do people refuse to get heated up about pro teams which are composed of the best college players? Does the answer lie in sentimental direction? Tradition and emotion?

When Grange was playing at Illinois he was playing for Red Grange & Co. Is that the distinction between varsity and pro football?

Perhaps, but if you advance that reason, somebody in the third row is sure to get up and ask, "Well, how about the baseball stars? Just who are they playing for?"

SENTIMENTAL REASONS

Despite the Carnegie Foundation's tone of last year, charging the overcommercialization of the game, football retains its intensely sentimental appeal. Dear old Snackelhaven may give Blacksmith Chester Spivins a scholarship because of the strength of his good right arm around a half-back's hips, or his bulk and power in there at tackle, but the dear public doesn't seem to care a whit about that. The football appeal remains the same as it was year and years ago when the Big Three ruled the gridiron world, and when young men first expressed the passion to perish for beloved Rutgers.

Glorious enemies and bitter rivalries have survived through all the changes that have been made in the game itself. These protracted hates, carried on in a sportsmanlike way (and sometimes not that way at all) are one of the assets of varsity football that pro football doesn't have.

I do not deny pro football men have the desire to win. But there isn't the background, Harold, and in football that seems to be pretty important.

NEW HAVEN, Oct. 21.—Booth, Austen, Dunn and Crowley, the backfield combination used by Yale against Brown, will probably be employed by the Blue against Army. Booth did not report for practice yesterday, getting a vacation, but will be out today.

TROJANS HARD AT WORK FOR STANFORD

Marsh Duffield or Orv Mohler, the former a 20-year-old senior and the latter a 21-year-old sophomore, will start at quarterback, and whether Jim Musick or Galus Shaver will open at fullback. Erney Pinckert and "Migs" Apsit are considered a cinch to open at half.

While Garrett Arbelbide and Ralph Wilcox are expected to start at end, the tackle and guard situation is uncertain. If "Tay" Brown is in good condition he probably will get the call at right tackle, although Ernie Smith, a 200-pounder with plenty of speed and ambition, is now making a spirited bid for the job. Bob Hall and Al Phaehn are running neck and neck for the left tackle job, and while some prognosticators dope Phaehn to start because of his superior aggressiveness so far this season, others pick Hall because of his splendid showing against the Cards last year when he was worked up to a fighting pitch.

While Johnny Baker is scheduled to work at left guard, Jess Shaw is finding plenty of competition for his place from Rupert Black, a husky sophomore. Stan Williamson is a cinch to open at center. He has been the most consistently good lineman on the Trojan eleven this season. His passing has been uniformly good while "Small yardage" has been gained through him on defense.

Despite the fact that mystery veils the Trojan starting lineup, the following is considered a good guess for the game: Arbelbide and Wilcox at end, Brown and Hall at tackle, Shaw and Baker at guard, Williamson at center, Duffield at quarter, Apsit and Pinckert at halfback, and Shaver at full.

Jack Dempsey Is Named Hotel Head

ENSENADA, Mex., Oct. 21.—Jack Dempsey, former heavyweight champion, had a new job today, that of president of the newly formed Hotel and Casino Playa Ensenada.

Dempsey was elected by directors of the concern, which will open a large hotel and casino in competition with the famous Agua Caliente resort October 31. The company also will operate a steamship line from San Diego.

COUNCIL GIVES $1500 FOR YULE WEEK REGATTA

NEWPORT BEACH, Oct. 21.—Plans were advanced today for the Christmas week regatta to be staged in Newport bay the three days following Christmas day. The council, which will sponsor and stage the event, in cooperation with local yacht clubs and others, decided to recommend the appropriation at a meeting at noon yesterday. Commodore J. A. Beek had a tentative plan ready for approval, whereby most of the events will be races for sailing boats of the smaller classes.

The council also adopted a recommendation of the chamber to allow $125 toward expenses of a Hawaiian float in the Orange county American Legion parade at Anaheim on Armistice day. H. L. Sherman, a director of the chamber and a past commander of the Newport harbor post of the Legion, will have charge of the float.

The chamber at its noon meeting decided to co-operate with the Los Angeles chamber in organizing a Southern California economic council, to act on matters affecting all the Southland, particularly regarding adequate redistribution of congressional and legislative seats following the recent census.

An effort will be made to have some local boat owner send his craft to Santa Monica on October 28, when the start of work on Santa Monica's new yacht harbor is to be celebrated. A committee consisting of J. A. Beek, Frank Smith and Secretary G. C. Macleod was named to have a boat sent to represent this community, if possible.

Change Sacrifice Fly Rule--Barnard

CHICAGO, Oct. 21.—(INS)—President E. S. Barnard of the American league today declared he plans to make a serious effort to bring about the elimination of the sacrifice fly from the present baseball scoring methods and to leave the intentional bunt alone in the category.

Barnard will present his request for changes at the major-minor rules committee session in December.

Lima beans continue to roll into the Smeltzer bean warehouse from the districts south and east, where steady threshing has been going on the past 10 days. Only a few small threshing outfits remain about Wintersburg and Smeltzer getting out a few of the later crops.

An increase in the picking crew at the warehouse has been made until now there are 24 women employed.

COFFEE FOR GRIDMEN

The old silver coffee pot that has been in use at Tulane university since 1894, was polished up by Trainer Monk Simons and pressed into service again this fall. Steaming black coffee, served New Orleans style, which means it is without cream or sugar, is poured for the Greenies between halves of every football game.

FLAHERTY TALKS ON FARM MARKETS

R. D. Flaherty, executive secretary of the Orange County Farm bureau read a paper last night over KREG, taken from a speech delivered on October 15 at Utica, N. Y., by C. C. Teague, California member of the federal farm board.

The topic of the address was the relation of the agricultural marketing act to the farm problem. In concluding, the paper read by Flaherty said:

"Much of the opposition to the activities of the board has come from interests that either feel or fear that their business is being interfered with. Nothing can be accomplished for the farmer without some interference with existing agencies. There has never been any progress in the world that did not require some readjustment to meet changing conditions. It is hoped that whatever readjustment is necessary in improving market conditions for agriculture may be brought about with as much consideration for existing agencies and investments as possible. But the work must go on and it will go on whether there continues to be an agricultural marketing act or not."

Council, Planning Body To Act On Zoning Ordinance

PROTESTS ARE HEARD ON LAW NOW IN EFFECT

A complete revision of the city's rigid zoning ordinance, particularly as it relates to restrictions placed on business and occupations in residential districts, is expected to be the result of a conference to be held Monday afternoon at the council chamber between the city fathers and members of the planning commission. Arrangements for the council to be attended by the city attorney, were completed last night at the council meeting at the request of the planning commission. As a result of the proposed conference, the city council postponed action on a number of applications dealing with conducting business in homes.

The action of the city planners in recommending a complete re-vamping of the zoning code, or the drafting of a new one, was precipitated by protests from members of the real estate profession who objected to the discrimination placed on their occupation by the zoning law provisions. They pointed out that while physicians, osteopaths, chiropractors and other members of the medical profession, were permitted to maintain offices in their residences on a special use permit, this privilege is denied real estate and insurance brokers and others engaged in similar occupations.

In a communication addressed to the council by the planning commission, it was pointed out that a much needed revision of the code will do away with the numerous difficulties which the commission is now forced to meet in the matter of passing upon applications relating to conducting businesses in homes. It also added that the present ordinance does not fit the present conditions in the city.

Coupled with these representations was a communication from Elwin Gammell, local real estate broker, protesting against the discrimination placed upon his profession by the zoning law.

"We do not believe that the real estate office in the residence of the broker would injure the residence section any more than the office of the contractor, painter, doctor and the beauty shop," Gammell stated in his letter, adding that already 39 real estate brokers are doing business in their respective homes.

PHOTO ARTIST

Larry Rundell, below, announced today the opening of a new photographic studio in The Register building. Rundell came here a year ago and has been specializing in child photography and home portraits. In his studio, work he achieves unique results without the use of painted canvas backgrounds, believing more natural pictures can be obtained without this device.

LARRY RUNDELL OPENS STUDIO IN SANTA ANA

Larry Rundell, former Paris photographer, today announced the opening of a new studio in The Register building, Third and Sycamore streets. The studio is located on the second floor of the building and is reached through the Third street entrance.

Specializing in child photography and home portraits, Rundell came here a year ago to handle Christmas work for the Austin studio. Since January he has been conducting his own business, quietly building up a clientele among those who prefer portraits taken in the home.

Now, however, he has installed himself in the Register building in room 14, where he is able to offer studio work in addition to the other type.

Rundell does not use painted canvas backgrounds, believing more natural effects can be obtained without them. He believes that, by careful composition and lighting effect, followed by intelligent retouching, a flattering portrait can be made of the most difficult subject.

The number of home portraits already taken by Rundell indicates the esteem in which his work is held in Santa Ana.

United States representatives and senators receive a salary of $10,000 a year.

F. M. Prince, 1936 West Seventeenth street, to erect a flower stand, selling flowers grown by him, was postponed until after the zoning conference set for next Monday.

NEW MEMBERS ARE INITIATED BY BACHELORS

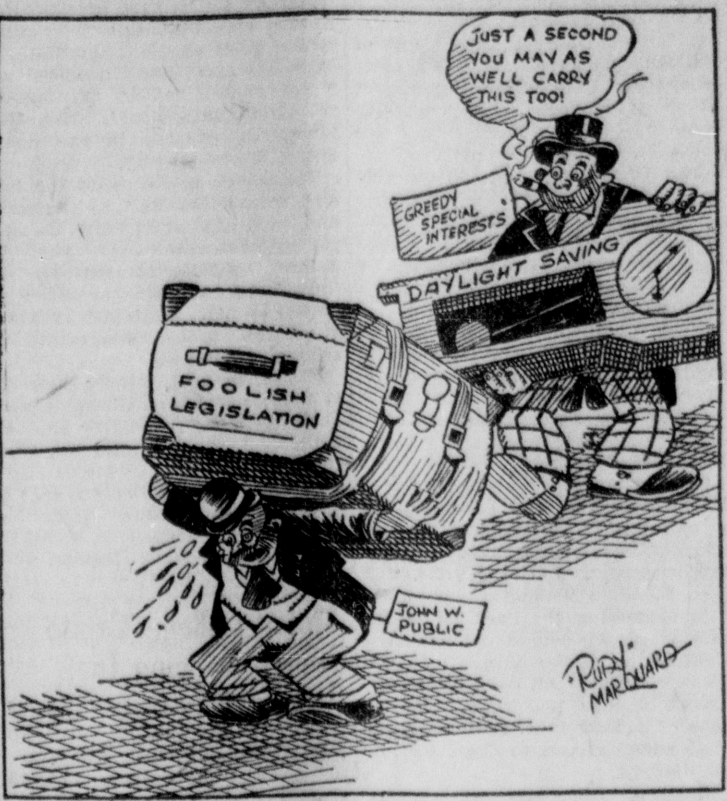

Giving 15 pledges the first rites of membership, the Brotherhood of Bachelors at the Santa Ana Junior college met last night at the home of Tom Clark at Parion and West Seventeenth streets.

A social program was enjoyed before and after the meeting. Each candidate was given his first degree, his small wooden rolling pin, fastened with a red ribbon and safety pin, which will be worn for the next six weeks, and a green Windsor tie to be worn on Bachelor Sabbath. On Sabbath, every other Tuesday, members wear red ties and dark glasses and speak to no women.

Future plans of the club were discussed, including the football caravan to Pasadena Saturday, which the Bachelors are supervising. It also was decided to play the Junior Lions of the college in miniature golf, the losing club to give a banquet in honor of the winner.

CHRISTIANITY CLASSES UNDER DISCUSSED BY DR. LAWS ARE PASTOR SUNDAY WELL ATTENDED

A discussion of Christianity, its merits and forces for right was contained in a sermon, "Christianity, What of It?" preached Sunday morning by Dr. George A. Warner, pastor of the First Methodist church. Dr. Warner said in part:

"Christianity is rooted in a belief in God. It does not argue His existence, it affirms and proceeds in the affirmative. It reveals His nature as a father.

"Christianity is the power of an ideal. The ideal is a person—Christ. Following an ideal requires two things: First, a purpose that amounts to a conviction, and second, a method by which it is hoped to speed up the realization of the purpose involved. Benefit of science is found in the fact that it has discovered an accelerating method.

"Christianity is a way of life. Every way of life has its set of doctrines. The doctrines are not part of the life's motor power. They are just explanations of what they are necessary to understanding. They change with every shift of the experience.

"Christianity is a social procedure. It involves moral reform—a crusade against whatever hinders life's fullest outreach and upreach. It demands ethical procedure. One-half of the gospel deals with human relationships. It goes to the bottom of our social program, political, industrial, educational. The only competition is that of service. The highest insistence, however, is for spiritual progress.

"Spirituality is the radiation of the spirit and attitude of Jesus. It is related to the sentiments of life, yet it is not a sentiment. Our emotions provide the necessary urge and supply much of the direction-taking quality of life. We are pulled by our loves and pushed by our hates. But spirituality is the product of a value creating power which enhances and expands the wonderful elements of the whole life.

"Religion is not a faculty in life, it is a value forming element that is tangent to every life faculty and instinct. Religion cannot be tucked away in an airtight compartment and be left there to develop isolated from the other functions of the personality. Religion expresses itself through every faculty, ennobling the manifestation, or it does not have any avenue of outreach. Spiritual progress is life development in all of its highest and most worthy normal manifestations.

"Christianity promises relief from moral guilt. The common spectacle of life is life at less than its best. Not even the materialist believes that the cross-section of contemporary life is on the high plane it might have enjoyed, had it measured up to the possible opportunities that have come and

NO ARGUMENTS AGAINST FARM AID FOR VETS

Commenting on the proposed constitutional amendment which provides for a $20,000,000 bond issue to be used by the state veterans' welfare board in assisting California war veterans to acquire farms or homes, Hunter Leach, commander of the Santa Ana post of the American Legion today called attention to the fact that there is no argument against the measure in the booklet prepared by the secretary of state containing the list of all measures to be voted on at the election November 4, together with arguments respecting the same.

"The bond proposal stands as number one on the list of propositions to receive the approval or rejection of the voters of the state," Commander Leach said. "A significant thing is that although opportunity is given for the publication of arguments on both sides of the question concerning the measures that are up for an expression from the voters, no argument against the veterans measure is contained in the booklet on the proposed constitutional amendments which is mailed to every registered voter in accordance with the law.

"The matter has also been endorsed by the four political parties in the state, Republican, Democratic, Prohibition and Socialist, each of which adopted a plank in its platform at the state convention endorsing the bond issue. The plan has already been tried under the bond act of 1925, and is a proven success.

"The measure costs the people of the state nothing, for every cent of the money invested is under the direction of a state board and is paid back in installments by the veteran who uses the funds in the purchase of property. The measure cannot be considered in any way as an appropriation, but involves only the use of the state's credit, every dollar of the fund being repaid with interest by the veterans who are aided in the acquiring of a home or farm.

"The plan has been in operation now for about eight years without cost to the taxpayers. It has been pronounced safe, sound and solvent by financial experts.

"The Santa Ana post of the American Legion is asking the support of all citizens of Santa Ana and Orange county for this proposition. Remember to stamp the voting mark in favor of this measure."

Hydrogen, which is an element, is the lightest substance known to science. Its specific gravity, compared with air, is .0695.

VETERANS ARE PLEASED WITH RADIO ADDRESS

Commander H. O. Rasmussen, of the Jack Fisher chapter, Disabled American Veterans of the World War, announced today that he is well pleased with the returns gained by the broadcast of the D.A.V., national commander, H. H. Weimer, of Chicago, who appeared on a program over KHJ last Sunday evening on a national hookup. Weimer outlined the program of this national organization and asked for 100 per cent co-operation of all state departments and chapters, and especially stressing the importance of increased membership. Captain Weimer, who was awarded the D.S.C for bravery in the late war, succeeds Past National Commander William J. Murphy, of this city, in leadership of the D.A.V. organization.

Rasmussen announced that an open meeting of the Glendale chapter will be held tonight and looks for a good turnout of Orange county members to make the trip to the foothill city.

American Legion hall, Santa Ana, will be the scene of the regular bimonthly meeting of the Jack Fisher chapter, Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock. Final arrangements for the Armistice day parade will be made, when the D.A.V. members will ride in autos, as has been their custom in past years.

Ray F. Shirley, membership chairman, reports that great strides are being made and hopes to exceed last year's total by the first of the year.

Mrs. Boyer Discussed Norway at Travel Section Meeting

Choosing as her topic, "Norway, the Land of the Midnight Sun," Mrs. C. P. Boyer gave most interesting accounts of her summer's trip through this marvelous country, at the meeting of the Second Travel section of the Ebell society, held yesterday in the clubhouse. A delectable luncheon was served at 12:30 o'clock preceding the program.

The early afternoon session was devoted to a business meeting, and was followed by a group of songs by Marjorie Warner Moore, accompanied at the piano by Miss Ruth Armstrong. Mrs. Boyer was then introduced and proved herself an unusually delightful speaker. Discussing fishing as the greatest industry of Norway, Mrs. Boyer said that many, many tons of dried fish are exported yearly, and that Norway exceeds all other countries in this product. Members enjoyed seeing the lovely pictures and souvenirs which the speaker exhibited.

Guests present included Mrs. Owen Moore (Marjorie Warner), Mrs. L. W. Jones, Miss Preble Drake, Mrs. L. S. Strassburg and Mrs. C. P. Boyer, the speaker of the afternoon.

Recently Engaged Pair Honored at Pretty Dinner Party

Honoring the recently announced betrothal of Miss Stella Montgomerie and Don Collins of Tustin, was a charmingly informal little dinner party given recently by Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth King in their home on North Cambridge avenue, Orange.

Covers for the four were laid on a beautifully arranged table where the dinner menu was served in four tempting courses. Slender white tapers were tied with wide tulle bows in which lilacs of the valley were knotted, to sway their fairy bells above the snowy linen. A romantic little bride and groom stood at each plate to indicate places at the table.

A variety of interesting games enlivened the evening.

KIWANIS PARTY WAS HAPPY AFFAIR GIVEN LAST NIGHT

Probably no social events of the city are more eagerly anticipated than those planned by members of the Kiwanis club for the entertainment of their wives and guests, and last night's colorful dance and card party, given in Ebell clubhouse, fulfilled every pleasurable anticipation held by members and guests of this popular service club. Theo A. Winbigger, social chairman, and his committee, Messrs. Henry Walker, Rolla Hays and Dr. Charles V. Doty, spared no pains in making the evening a success, and were aided in every manner by their wives. Mrs. Winbigger, Mrs. Hays and Mrs. James Tarpley, assisted in greeting the guests and presiding in the peacock room where a delightful musical program was the first of the evening's varied pleasures.

Not only did the well-known J. Gledhill orchestra furnish the program of dance music, but these popular players opened the program with several orchestra numbers, which were followed by special dance features by talented youngsters of Miss Lillian Newman's school of Dancing.

The children gave every variety of fancy dance steps, varying these with gay little songs. They were so graceful and well trained, and their little dance costumes so colorful and pretty, that everyone was quite delighted with their part in the enjoyable program, and highly appreciative of Miss Newman's courtesy in presenting her pupils.

Favorite Soloist

Mrs. Jessie Johnson, one of the community's favorite soloists, sang and many of the guests declared that they had never heard her lovely voice to better advantage. Her songs were varied, ranging from the simplicity of "When Irish Eyes are Smiling," to extremely difficult arias and operatic numbers and she was gracious in responding to encores, ably seconded by her accompanist, Harry Garstang.

The orchestra closed the program with several features including an instrumental quartet and a clever vocal trio whose gay songs kept everyone smiling. As the dance music signaled the close of the special program, those who preferred bridge to dancing, sought the lounge where Dr. and Mrs. H. McVicker Smith had charge of the tables.

Four Prize Winners

Mrs. A. N. Zerman was presented with the pretty set of nested bowls given as first prize among women players, while a graceful crystal compote went as second prize to Mrs. W. B. Martin. Jacob B. Haas, scoring high among the men, was rewarded with an ebony nut dish and its accompanying hammer, while Fred Newcomb Jr., with second high score, received the unique gift of a china cup and saucer in distinctive design, which is to be sacred to his own use.

As the happy evening advanced and bridge players rejoined the dancers in the peacock room, a buffet supper was served, with Hallowe'en appointments including flowers and tall orange tapers in pretty candelabra. A handsome silver coffee service was used, and those who poured were Mrs. Henry Walker, Mrs. Charles V. Doty, Mrs. Alvin Nowotny and Mrs. Roy George.

Glendale Wedding Was Of Local Interest

Occurring on Saturday morning, October 18, in the wee Kirk of the Heather, Glendale, the marriage of Ernest Collins of Brea, son of Mrs. Iva Collins of Petaluma, to Miss Hilda Mildred Lawrence, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard C. Lawrence of Highland Park, was of much interest to friends of Mr. Collins in this community.

There were half a hundred guests assembled for the pretty morning ceremony, for which bridal music was played by Miss Florence Gibson. The Rev. John Snape, pastor of Temple Baptist church, Los Angeles, read the service at which Miss Lawrence was given in marriage by her father.

The bride wore her traveling suit, a smart tulle in French blue wool with hat and slippers to match, and with a corsage of gardenias and lilies of the valley. Her maid of honor, Miss Melissa Aldrich, wore a semi-sports frock in one of the new figured wools in shades of tan, with a corsage of pink roses. Little Miss Audrey Stiles as flower girl, was in pale rose crepe de chine and carried an old-fashioned nosegay of sweet peas and roses. Mr. Collins was assisted by Claude Curteman as best man.

After a short motor honeymoon, Mr. and Mrs. Collins will make their home in Los Angeles.

Evening of Bridge Was Recent Hospitality In Newcomb Home

Among the countless gay affairs with which hostesses are recognizing the charm and significance of Hallowe'en, none has been more enjoyable than the evening of bridge given recently in the pretty home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Newcomb Jr. on Tustin avenue.

Mrs. Newcomb found in the velvet-petaled Mexican sunflower, the ideal blossom to use in establishing a Hallowe'en color scheme, for it is of a rich orange hue which blends beautifully with other garden flowers in sunny tones.

Five tables of bridge were in play and since scores of each husband and wife were tallied together, the appropriate prizes were awarded Mr. and Mrs. Fred Crowell with the largest combined total, and Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Nowotny, with the second high score. The hostess also had a third prize gift as guest prize for Mrs. Mortimer Hocombe, of England, houseguest of her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. L. Allen Wallace.

In arranging the card tables for serving a two-course supper as a final phase of the hospitality, Mrs. Newcomb used tall candles in deep orange shades tied with a lighter tone of yellow tulle. Individual nut cups added charm to the table appointments.

Sharing the pleasant evening with Mr. and Mrs. Newcomb, were Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Nowotny, Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Miller, Mr. and Mrs. George R. Wells, Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Walker, Mr. and Mrs. Theo A. Winbigger, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Crowell, Mr. and Mrs. L. Allen Wallace, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Martin, Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Ranney and Mrs. Mortimer Hocombe.

Stevens' Grounds Were Setting For Surprise Party Recently

L. S. Stevens was honor guest at a most enjoyable affair recently when Mrs. Stevens planned a surprise party in his honor, entertaining in the attractive grounds of their home at 1354 Grand avenue. The brightness of a blazing fire in the outdoor fireplace was rivalled only by the colorful electric lights of the grounds.

While the guests grouped around the fireplace and watched the flickering embers take on fantastic shapes, events of olden times were of foremost interest in conversation. Impromptu musical selections added to the pleasures of the evening. An appetizing buffet supper was served at a late hour.

Those present other than Mr. and Mrs. Stevens, were Mr. and Mrs. Jack Huston, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Lentz, Jackie and Boyd Lentz, Mrs. C. Ausmus and Berdell and Veda Ausmus, Mrs. Fred Elliott, Mrs. C. M. Thorpe, Miss Dorothy Thorpe, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Isenberg, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Duncan, Beverly Joanne and Wesley Duncan, Donald and Charlie Stevens, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Harrison of Hollywood and Prof. Andrist of Tustin.

Queen Esther Girls Enjoyed Party In Winbigger Home

One of the jolliest of Hallowe'en parties was that shared by Queen Esther girls of the First Methodist church when Mrs. Theodore Winbigger entertained in her home at 207 East Ninth street. Mrs. H. B. Sharpless assisted in the hostess duties of the evening.

The spacious rooms of the home lent themselves well to the games and contests which are always a part of such gatherings. There was a brief business session and as a final feature a delicious dinner was served by Mrs. Winbigger at prettily appointed tables suggesting the season of witches.

Those present, other than Mrs. Winbigger and Mrs. Sharpless, were Miss Esther Coffman and Mrs. William J. Stauffer and the Misses Dorothy Gitzel, Jeanette Lutes, Helen Wieseman, Betty Hiel, Florence Warner, Esther Vogt, Margaret Guthrie, Catherine Budd, Betty Powell and Ruth Beamer.

Junior College Group Enjoys Dancing In Nearby City

Capturing the lucky balloon for the girls at the first junior college semi-formal dance of the season at Orange Legion hall last night, Miss Lucille Crawford was presented a very lovely wrought-iron candelstick. Frank Miles was given a handsome tie as he was found holding the lucky balloon for the men. This took place when the black and white canopy dropped letting fall the black and white balloons on the dancers during a special dance number.

Extremely effective black and white decorations were used throughout the hall and clever dance programs and bridge tallies were used. Miss Maybelle Ball headed the committee in charge of tallies and programs.

Committees in charge of the successful dance which was given by the sophomores to the freshmen, were Bill Reinhardt, sophomore president, Miss Maybelle Ball, social commissioner, Miss Geraldine Cole, Alpha Rho Tau president, and Ray Gleason, O. K. club president.

Members of the faculty who attended the dance as chaperons were Miss Agnes Todd Miller, Miss Dorothy Decker, Miss Mable Whiting, Miss Myrtle Martin, Mr. and Mrs. H. O. Russell and Mr. and Mrs. George Holmes.

Little Tots Gave Program Numbers

The Morton kindergarten at 1315 North Broadway was the scene of an interesting affair late last week when a reception was held for those working with the little tots. Providing themselves very entertaining, the youthful members gave orchestra numbers and tap dances.

Visitors were Mrs. Moffet Rhodes, Mrs. Melvin Tricker, Mrs. J. E. Breaker, Mrs. H. L. Johnson, Mrs. R. C. Edwards, Mrs. Elsie Spruance and Mrs. R. E. McLellan.

Make It Yourself

An amusing and yet highly useful Christmas gift for feminine friends is the doll-baby laundry bag. It suffices for a real laundry bag for little girls and is an excellent soiled handkerchief and lingerie bag for older ones.

To make the bag, get a doll's head, attached to shoulders and limp little arms. Take a yard of delicate silk or pretty wash material in the color of the recipient's bedroom. Cut off enough of the material to make a double ruffle frill around the doll's neck and for narrow strings by which to hang it up.

Double the material left, round up the bottom, finish a slit down the back to put the clothes in through and French seam the bottom and rounding sides. Run an elastic through the top and slide the finished bag up onto the doll baby's neck, under the frill. This allows for removing the bag for frequent laundering. You can make the same bag with a little sailor boy's head and dark material and little boys will like it very much indeed.

Girls' Dean Offers Solution to Home Problems

Enrolled in Julia Lathrop junior high school are numerous young girls who are more than willing to give their services in return for small remuneration or room and board, according to Mrs. Iva M. Webber, dean of girls. They require the background of a reputable home, and certain in her mind that Santa Ana has places for these industrious students, Mrs. Webber has made this announcement.

With the approaching winter season comes a hurried rush of parties, church affairs and holiday preparations which demand a large share of the housewife's time. Of course mother has her usual daily routine to consider, meals must be planned, and little Betty-Jean can't be left to the solitude of her nursery in the afternoons.

Mrs. Jones who sometimes cared for Bobbie when he was smaller may be available, but how much more satisfying matters would be were someone near who could remain in the home throughout the evening. Realizing that there must be a number of Santa Ana mothers whose problems are much as in the above instance, Mrs. Webber has requested that mothers who need help with small children or light home duties get in touch with her. The Julia Lathrop telephone number is 4190.

Merry College Party Held In "Our Village"

Spooks and witches held sway at Sleepy Hollow last night when members of Moav club, of Santa Ana junior college, entertained pledges at a semi-formal Hallowe'en party at the home of Miss Louella Marshall on Sleepy Hollow lane, Laguna Beach.

An interesting program with fortune telling, initiation was held for the new pledges who are Miss Eleanor Wisner, Miss Elizabeth Rinkler, Miss Mary Mateer, Miss Dulcie Green, Miss Joanna Day, Miss Geraldine Cole, Miss Marie McGinnis, Miss Marcia Elliott and Miss Maybelle Ball.

Several sessions of bridge completed the pleasant evening with Miss Louise Ward capturing high score.

Delicious refreshments appropriate to the session were served by Miss Marshall who was assisted by her mother, Mrs. Marshall and Miss Evelyn Parks, Miss Louise Ward, Miss Margaret Westover.

Housewarming Was Charming Event

Bidding a number of friends to their new established residence at 895 North Artesia street, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. May were hosts at a pleasantly informal affair Saturday evening. Many games, including bridge and other card diversions, were enjoyed. An appetizing refreshment course was served at a late hour.

Those present other than Mr. and Mrs. May were Miss Wilma Brannon, Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Lacy, Mr. and Mrs. Al Simmons, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Sullivan, Kenneth Adams, P. Hudson and H. Neer.

Music Recital

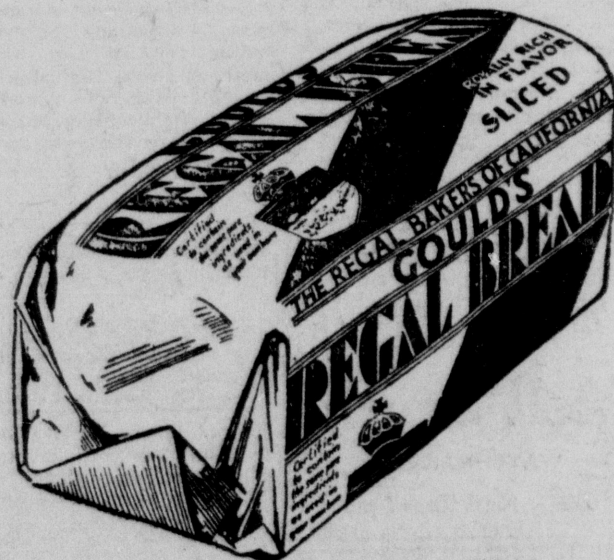

A perfect setting for a recital of Saturday was found in the lovely ranch home of Mrs. Charles Parker, in Orange, when Alice Talcott Merigold presented Miss Arden Murray of Tustin, in piano numbers. The reception hall was gay with brilliant goldenrod, while baskets of pastel-tinted blossoms decked the music and drawing rooms.

Exceptionally well received was Miss Murray's rendition of Godard's "Second Mazurka." Others showing the young pianist's brilliant style were Beethoven's Ecossaises and "To Spring" by Greig. Included in the group were "The Woodland Rhapsody" by Gelbel, "The Scarf Dance" by Macdonald, and a Chopin Valse.

Adding to the pleasures of the evening, Miss Lois Murray, a voice pupil of Miss Lorene Croddy, sang several numbers. Hallowe'en refreshments were served by Mrs. Owen Murray, assisted by the Misses Ruth and Helen Parker.

Ann Discovers a Linoleum Idea

If you are planning to put new linoleum on any room in your house this fall, let me give you a little first-hand information which came my way this morning when my own kitchen floor was being measured for a new covering.

Of course you know that a charge per square yard is made for laying linoleum, and once in a while that laying charge is money wasted because of poor workmanship. Why not spend a little more and have the covering cemented onto the floor? It is all over and done with at one operation, smooth as a hardwood floor. The measuring man told me that a very inexpensive grade of linoleum, laid by cementing, would outlast the best grade, laid the old way.

If you have some impossible old floors in "the boys' room," why not cover it with a colorful, inexpensive linoleum? Use contrasting shades, one of which will be used as a border. Then wax and polish the new floor, use a small rug or two, and in the twinkling of an eye, you have a clean delightful looking floor that will be a joy to you and your family.

NOTED LABORATORY FINDS WAY TO END "ATHLETE'S FOOT"

You can never be certain that you are not one of the 10 million people in America today who are victims of "Athlete's Foot" infection — an unpleasant, annoying form of ringworm.

That is because of the infection's comparative mildness when first contracted, and its several peculiar ways of showing itself. You may notice tiny, itching blisters between your toes. Or the skin may become moist and thickened. It may turn either red or white, or even develop a scaly dryness.

If you discover any one of these symptoms, don't wait for complications. Follow the advice of authorities and douse ABSORBINE JR. on your feet twice daily.

For it was proved by actual tests in a famous New York laboratory that wherever this mild, yet powerful, antiseptic penetrates, it not only cures but kills the tinea trichophyton, which causes "Athlete's Foot."

So after every exposure to wet surfaces—in public places and even in your own bathroom—play safe by using ABSORBINE JR. on your feet. For the tiny parasites breed and lurk simply everywhere, and are always ready to attack. All druggists, $1.25. W. F. Young, Inc., Springfield, Mass.—Adv.

baked ham from Sunday dinner. I am sure you will like it also; not only is it good food but sensible economy. And that's something I can't say about a lot of made-over messes which are touted as "delicious."

First, get the ham ready by running it through the coarse knife of the food chopper. It is improved by heating it just a little; do this over hot water or add a tiny bit of hot water to it and simmer gently.

Melt the butter, blend in the flour and cook for two minutes. Add the cold milk and stir constantly until the sauce thickens. This operation will take about 15 minutes and that is the proper length of time to cook all cream sauces so that they taste like cream sauce, not like paper-hanger's paste. Don't salt this sauce right now, but make the toast, enough for four, please. Place it on a platter, spread the hot ham on the toast, but first—Season the sauce with a little paprika and celery salt, mix in the chopped sweet pickle, and pour the hot sauce over the ham and toast.

Good sized portions for four run calory total up to a little over 2000, some 500 calories per portion. There are so many energy calories in this recipe it must be balanced by the usual green salad and something for dessert which is not fattening. That something might be grapefruit, unsugared, of course.

Thanksgiving will soon be with us and on its heels follow Christmas and New Year's, so the leaflet I am offering you this week is planned for those occasions. It is called "Stuffings and Trimmings." Send only a stamped self-addressed envelope this week for a free copy.

Tomorrow we will have a Noodle Ring recipe. This is another fine way to use up left-over meat, or to serve with hot vegetables.

Santa Anan Returns From Nebraska Visit

Mrs. F. W. Wiesseman has returned to her home at 2411 North Park boulevard, after an extended visit in the middle west with relatives, including her brother, Julius Dietrich and his family of Lincoln, Nebr. She declared that she saw more corn than she had ever seen growing before in her life, as the middle western corn crop was a wonderful one this year.

On her homeward trip, Mrs. Wiesseman came by way of the D. and R. G. through the Royal Gorge, enjoying the daylight trip through that magnificent scenery. She stopped in Salt Lake City also, as one of the interesting features of her journey.

Valued at $40,000, a British Guiana stamp recently exhibited in Boston is regarded as the costliest square inch of paper in the world. It was printed in 1856.

"STUDIO" PREVIEW SEEN AT WALKER'S

The talking film program at Walker's State tonight is featured by the showing of a "Studio" Preview, according to Vic Walker, manager. "While the preview tonight is billed as being direct from the studio, it is in reality a finished talking picture, ready for exhibition and not actually a preview of the finished product. Real 'studio' previews are few and far between, and Santa Ana in all its show history, has probably never seen half a dozen previews from the studios," Walker said.

"The title 'Studio Preview' was begun several seasons ago locally as a competitive measure. One theater would bill a studio preview, and the competition theaters, not to be outdone, would do the same," said Walker. "Film companies regard Santa Ana as a too sophisticated audience for proper reactions, and due to the comparatively long distance from Hollywood, previews are usually staged at closer points from the studios," he said.

"The 'Studio Preview' racket in Santa Ana is a laugh," Walker said. "At one time Santa Ana was 'previewed' to death by a Studio Preview at one of the theaters nearly every night. People of course knew this to be an impossibility, and I think everyone was glad when previews were discontinued for a time. While we are forced to call these extra features 'Studio Previews,' we don't make any pretense that they are direct from the studio. Previews in Santa Ana are nearly all from film exchanges and not from studios."

The feature closing tonight is Greta Garbo's first all-talking picture, "Anna Christie."

NEWPORT BEACH

NEWPORT-BALBOA, Oct. 21.—The members of the Ladies' Aid society of the Methodist church of Balboa will gather in the community hall of the chapel October 23 at 10 a. m. for an all-day meeting. A pot luck luncheon will be served at noon and the members will come prepared to sew. It is expected that two vacancies on the executive board will be filled at this session.

City Clerk Alfred Smith and Mrs. Smith have returned from Inglewood, where they spent two weeks visiting their daughter and granddaughter. Father Lahane, pastor of Our Lady of Mt. Carmel church here, was the speaker at a meeting of the Y. L. L. held recently in Santa Ana, when several new members were admitted into that organization.

THREE CROOKS AT BAY

Loretta Young, Raymond Hatton and George Barraud in a scene from "Road To Paradise," now showing at the Fox West Coast theater.

"AFRICA SPEAKS" IS STRANGEST PICTURE

Many African tribes—particularly those of the French Congo—have long made it a practice to mutilate the faces of their women. The fact has been observed and reported not only by travelers, but by French government officials. All efforts to discover the origin of the custom failed, however, until Paul L. Hoefler, who recently made an amazing trip in the interests of the Colorado-African Expedition, unearthed the secret.

Startling photographs of these duck-billed women are shown in "Africa Speaks," the sensational African adventure picture, which is now at the Fox Broadway Theatre for four days, together with many other intimate glimpses of native life. The film, released throughout the world by Columbia Pictures, abounds as well in splendid scenic effects, and amazingly close shots of the wild beasts of the jungle.

Authorities and informed laymen who have seen the picture are unanimous in unstinted praise of the thrilling scenes and realistic photography. Needless to state, the sounds of the jungle, the roars and cries of its denizens, play a large part in contributing to the unparalleled effect of the film.

GARDEN GROVE

GARDEN GROVE, Oct. 21.—Mr. and Mrs. Emmett Smith entertained with a 7 o'clock dinner party at their home on Verona road Friday evening. A bowl of yellow and orange zinnias formed the centerpiece of the table decorations and the Halloween motif was carried out in the nut cups and favors.

Covers were placed for Mr. and Mrs. S. R. Fitz, Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Schauer, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Smiley, Mrs. J. W. McGarvin and Mr. and Mrs. Smith. The game of "Hearts" was played.

Mrs. Willis Perkins, of Garden Grove; Mrs. Donald Smiley and Mrs. Marion Flippen entertained Friday afternoon with a bridge tea at the latter's home in Orange. Guests from Garden Grove were Mrs. Andrew Smiley, Mrs. Henry Walsworth and Mrs. C. Z. Wasson. Seventy guests were present.

The first meeting of the Friendly club since the summer vacation was held at the home of Mrs. Wendell Jones. A social afternoon was enjoyed and the hostess served refreshments.

Mrs. Fred Schroeder of Ramona, a former member of the club, was a guest. Members present were, Mrs. Frank Everett, Mrs. Camille Nichols, Mrs. Verda Trotter, Mrs. Ralph Brandy, Mrs. Leonard Stinson and Mrs. Jones.

"ROAD TO PARADISE" WELL RECEIVED HERE

One of the important featured players in "Road To Paradise" which is now showing at the Fox West Coast Theatre, is Fred Kelsey, veteran character actor.

"Mulligan Talks," might well be the caption for Kelsey's part, for it was he who made famous the line "Mulligan, Mulligan, where the hell is Mulligan?"

Kelsey took the part of one of the two dumb police officers in "The Gorilla," which First National produced several years ago from Ralph Spence's famous play of thrills and laughter. Charley Murray was the other detective, it will be remembered, and he and Kelsey created a pair of detectives who will long be remembered.

"Road to Paradise" is a thrilling drama of dual identity, mystery, and the underworld, and features Loretta Young, Jack Mulhall, Raymond Hatton, Kathryn Williams, Dot Farley, and others. William Beaudine directed for First National.

THE TINYMITES

STORY BY HAL COCHRAN—PICTURES BY KNICK
REG. U. S. PAT. OFF.

The fisherfolks were pleased to see the Tinymites thrilled as they could be, just watching great big fish nets being fixed up in good shape. The man explained, "We must tie knots to fix these holes. Just lots and lots." Then Clowmy smiled and said, "Why don't you use adhesive tape?"

The man replied, "Oh, my, oh, my, that's something we will never try. You see, 'twould only wash right off when in the deep, blue sea. 'Course, if you use it on your hand, you'll find that sort of tape works grand. But on a monstrous fishing net, of no use can it be."

Soon Scouty asked, "What will you do with that big net when you are through? Will it be dropped in to the sea to catch a mess of fish?"

The man responded, "Yes, my son! That very thing will soon be done. We're going to fish right near here. You can watch us, if you wish."

And so the Tinymites stayed around.

In 'bout an hour or so they found that fish were plentiful not very far from shore. "Once more we'll let our fish net drop," cried out the man. "And then we'll stop. When we have all we need, of course we don't want any more."

The bunch then thanked them for the fun and Copy said, "Now we must run back to town. There are a lot of other things to see. They walked and waved goodbye until they reached a pretty little hill. The Travel Man said, "Up we go! You Tinymites follow me."

Atop the hill a bench was found. 'Twas made of stones and wound around in funny little curves that made it quite a pretty sight. "Now look, you'll see, by gazing down, a panorama of the town. It is a wondrous view by day, but prettier at night."

(The Tinymites meet a cute little playmate in the next story.)

Missing Letter Links

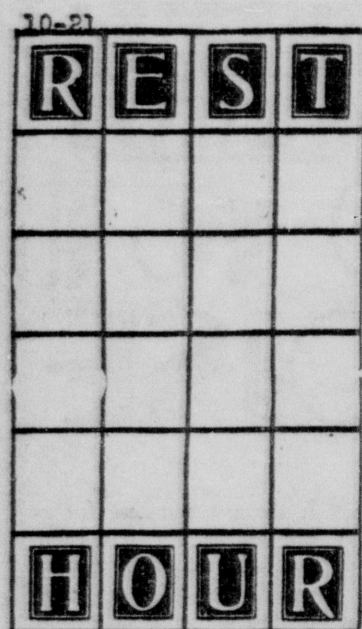

RULES

1. In playing golf on the Missing Letter Links the object is to change one word to another in a given number of strokes which is par. For example to go from TEE to PIN in three strokes sounds hard but isn't: TEE-TIE-PIE-PIN. It's probably more difficult on a real course.

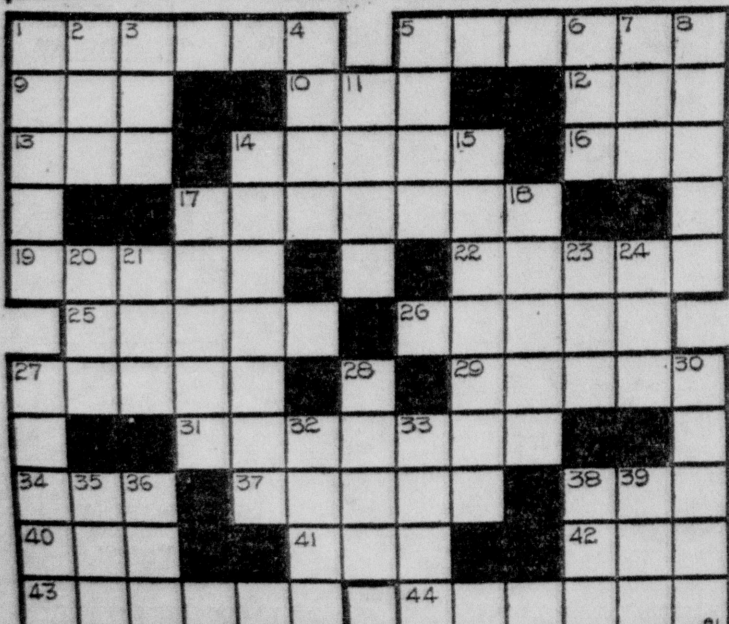

2. Change but one letter at a time and be sure the word you have used is one in good usage.

3. The order of the letters cannot be changed.

REST to HOUR—During your REST HOUR, a case on the missing letter links is just the thing for mental diversion. Par is four.

EVENING SALUTATION

He gains wisdom in a happy way who gains it by another's experience.
—PLAUTUS.

AN IMMORTAL BEAR

A pet bear in a construction camp near Blacksmith Rapids, Ontario, became a problem. The story is told that it finally seemed necessary to get rid of him. But it proved difficult. At last account the bear was still about the camp. Doses of strychnine were fed to him on various occasions but he just "laughed off" the poison.

The next attempt to put an end to bruin was made by accident, but nevertheless, any mortal bear should have succumbed. A physician visiting in the camp dropped a case containing a hypodermic syringe and a lot of morphia, "enough," to the story goes, "to send the ordinary human further than Rip Van Winkle ever traveled." The bear consumed the pills in the case at one gulp and lived to continue being a nuisance about the camp.

Then the Greek cook took it upon himself to get rid of the bear. He smeared honey on a stick of dynamite and led bruin a distance from the camp before lighting the fuse and giving him the honeyed stick of dynamite.
On the way back to camp he heard the explosion. "I fix him," he joyously reported.

But the end was not yet. While he was preparing vegetables for the evening meal bruin came around the side of the cook house and made a swipe at the potatoes. It is reported that a few bits of hide missing here and there were evidence that the bear was not entirely impervious to dynamite.

If anyone could stage an endurance contest of some sort between this bear and a goat their fortunes might be made. A goat, who could withstand such elaborate efforts to kill it has not yet been heard of, but they are reported to eat most anything and everything and still stand the strain.

600,000 farmers object to Daylight Saving because they know that laws can't change nature; that cows, chickens, and crops will obey nothing but the sun. If the farmer tries to obey a Daylight Saving law he suffers financial losses. If it is a law and he doesn't obey it, he is out of tune with those who do.

POLITICAL RALLIES THEN AND NOW

A generation ago political rallies were primary occasions. Each rally was a spontaneously organized emotional mass. It began with a torchlight parade, and ended in oratorical fireworks. Not much of consequence was said, to be sure, but with the strong prejudices that existed, it wasn't necessary to say anything. All that was necessary was to call the opponents names, to hark back to Jefferson and Hamilton, to Washington and Lincoln, and the audience of partisans went wild with excitement.

Sometimes we long for those exuberant and vociferous times; but the day of the orator who wakes the echoes with resounding phrases and bombastic claims, who appeals to the dead and to the heavens, who rings out with loud voice and violent gesture the "glory of our party" strikes a chilly crowd. Not a few in the audience shout, "Aw, bologna; apple sauce!" The more refined shout, "bunk and nonsense!" The radio, the journals of opinion, and the house-to-house worker have the call. The newspapers with here and there an exception, are no longer partisan in their news columns. In the more outstanding newspapers of the country one would find it difficult to learn which side the paper is on unless he reads the editorials. In Wisconsin, practically all the press was against Philip La Follette, but the newspapers had to carry his speeches and his activities. No up-to-date publisher wants to do otherwise with his news columns. And even if he wanted to, he would hardly consider it good business to do otherwise.

This whole change has been wholesome. The result has been a higher public service and a greater sensitiveness to public opinion. We are not yet free from the cheap and unscrupulous demagogue, but he is not so numerous as once.

THE ARGENTINE AMBASSADOR
COMES BACK

When Mr. Hoover, as president-elect, decided to take a trip to South America, our state department immediately got in touch with the South American government informing them of Mr. Hoover's purpose. Every government communicated with, save Argentina, instructed its representative in Washington to extend the official invitation of his government. The Argentine ambassador was somewhat embarrassed, and requested his government to invite the president-elect. Word came back asking whether the visit was to be official or non-official, and the ambassador was instructed by President Irigoyen to return immediately. On his return he was reprimanded for his course, and dismissed from office. A little later an official invitation was sent through the American minister in Chile, just about the time Mr.
Hoover arrived at Santiago.

Since that time Argentina has had no ambassador at Washington. But with the revolution and the ousting of Irigoyen, the new president immediately returned Senor Malbran, the ousted ambassador, and he arrived in Washington a few days ago. For the first time in a number of years the two countries are enjoying cordial relations. So something has been accomplished by the revolution in Argentina so far as our government is concerned.

AMENDMENT NO. 2

There will appear on the ballot for the attention of the voters of California, November 4th, an amendment which is designated as No.
2 on the ballot.

This amendment provides that the Legislature shall every two years direct the "distribution among the various firemen's pension, relief, health, life and accident insurance funds of any county * * * of a sum not to exceed one-half the revenues accruing from the taxation of premiums of fire insurance companies and associations for fire insurance premiums" under another provision.

This amount of monies to be distributed is based "upon the proportion that each particular pension, relief, health, life and accident insurance fund bears to the aggregate of all such funds existing in the state" at the time the distribution is made. In other words, this Constitutional amendment grants authority to distribute from insurance premiums an amount for the purposes named to those communities where there is provision for such a fund.

There are twelve cities in the state that have pension funds and the aggregate figure of those twelve cities is an amount of a little over five million dollars. Of this amount Los Angeles has over eighty per cent and San Francisco has eight per cent, so that Los Angeles and San Francisco have over ninety per cent of this fund between them and would receive more than ninety per cent therefore, of the funds provided for by this amendment.

While, to be sure, there is a provision in the measure allowing the Legislature to distribute a portion of such funds among other counties, yet there is nothing mandatory about it and it would create unquestionably a scramble and fight among the other counties to get some portion of this fund. It would be an unseemly struggle because there is no fixed ratio. The uncertainty and discrimination can be very strongly urged against this amendment. The firemen who are not in the cities that are benefited will certainly not profit by this amendment. The cities that will be helped are Los Angeles, San Francisco, San Diego, San Jose, Fresno, Alameda, Oakland, Stockton, Pasadena, Berkeley, Sacramento and Long Beach, but outside of San Francisco and Los Angeles these cities would receive such relatively small amounts that it is not much of a consideration. There are 310 fire departments in the state which will not be benefited except as the Legislature may desire, while the ones to which we have called your attention are those to which distribution must be made.
The condition which would result from this amendment certainly will not be satisfactory to the people of the state.

World May Face New Era In Electric Power

The queerest thing about that crazy experiment of Prof. Georges Claude, down in Matanzas, Cuba, is that it works. He lays a big pipe a mile long on the sloping ocean floor, draws warm water from the surface, brings cold water up from the bottom, and by some scientific hocuspocus of physical laws uses the difference in temperature to make steam, which turns a turbine and produces electric power.

In his first demonstration the other day he ran his silly steam engine without fuel or waterpower, and developed a current which lighted forty 500-watt light bulbs. That would have lighted a considerable stretch of city street automatically until the machinery wore out. And the machinery is so sturdy and simple that there is little to wear out.

Twenty kilowatts isn't much, as electric power is rated nowadays. That alone wouldn't pay for the installation and maintenance of the plant. But remember the first crude experiments with high-temperature steam in the Watt engine and its offspring. If Claude can produce 20,000 watts, roughly equal to 20 horsepower, in his first attempt with low-temperature steam, who knows but that we may soon have millions of kilowatts from an inexhaustible source? We may be at the threshold of a new power era.

We Might Tempt Wales With Official "Invite"

You certainly have to hand it to these Los Angeles boys for their knack of getting publicity.
John Steven McGroarty called on King Alfonso of Spain a couple of days ago and invited him to the 150th birthday party of our southern neighbor and the news is spread all over the world.

Alfonso, according to the dispatches, was a trifle noncommittal. He has a few national strikes on his hand and the value of the peseta has shrunk to 10.42 to the good American dollar. A lot of Spanish Katzenjammer kids are trying to saw his throne out from under him and we suspect the old boy will stick pretty close to home for the present. But the City of Angels will get some more good publicity when a beautifully worded declaration arrives in a gorgeous envelope.
Which brings to mind the report that the Prince of Wales and his brother, Prince George, will visit the United States next year. Perhaps our own San Francisco board of supervisors might like to issue an official invitation to Wales and Prince George to come along and pay us a visit as official guests of the city. They might even promise to smuggle them safely through Big Bill Thompson's Chicago Badlands.

Anyway, San Francisco would get some advertising of a harmless sort.

Good Music

Mrs. Thomas A. Edison, a woman of culture, advocates the charms of family music as an escape from "this restless and complex age." Mrs. Edison, addressing the Congress of the National Recreation Association, of which she has been a director for sixteen years, observed that "some of the finest memories of home life that your children will have tomorrow will be the memories of music shared together." Quite true. Continuing her stressing of the value of arts and culture in home and individual life, Mrs. Edison said that "our happiness as a nation rests not alone on material progress, but upon the free growth and wise cultivation of things of the spirit; the greatest value of music in our minds is its power to transport us quickly from the material to the spiritual world." There is rest for the weary; there is solace for the sorrowful; there is inspiration for the downcast, in good music.

Time for a Few Cutting Remarks!

More Truth Than Poetry

By James J. Montague

A LITTLE BROTHERLY ADVICE

("Why not cut out the bunk?"—Lincoln Steffens.)

I hung on your words like a barnacle, Link.
When you starred in the magazine game.
And declare civic virtue had gone on the blink,
And the cities were sodden with shame.
But though scoundrels and grafters still follow their trade
Reaping ill-gotten gains by the bale,
I always was strong for the fight that you made
To put big offenders in jail.
Yet, when you cry angrily: "Bunk must be cut!"
I cannot refrain from observing: "Tut! Tut!"

Dear friend of my youth, we are children no more,
And we both ought to know, at our age,
Although virtuous people may wail and deplore
And the righteous may thunder and rage,
The bunk is ingrained in the flesh and the bone,
You have lusted through stress and through storm,
You will find it wiser to let it alone—
It is one thing you cannot reform.
Remember Canine, when he vainly defied
The nearer approach of the incoming tide!

Perhaps, in the course of a few hundred years
By diligent effort, men may Put a curb on the will of the rude racketeers,
And hold the gross grafters at bay.
But not, in the furthest march of events
That the keenest of eyes can foresee,
Will they ever eradicate sham and pretense,
(I confess that I find both in me!)
For the bunk has its home in the vain human heart,
And what you can't finish, you'd better not start.

EXPERIENCE

We learned from the old song that there's a hole in the bottom of the sea, and from Wall Street that there's a deeper one in the bottom of the stock market.

EMBARRASSING QUESTION

It will annoy the Giants and the Yankees considerably when the fans inquire, "What did you do in the great series?"

NOTABLE EXCEPTIONS

Prosperity is a Buy-Product

"Easy come, easy go."

This is the chorus which righteous savers still chant, accusingly, for the benefit of sinful spenders.

But there are beginning to be gaps in the choir. Almost anybody can begin to perceive signs of a business depression, when sales to consumers have fallen off ten per cent; and when production—not to be outdone—has fallen off nearly twice as much.

Perhaps, after all, it was better to buy purple and fine linen, and thus enable the workers to keep right on producing wealth and drawing wages.

Even some of the righteous savers are getting sick of their suit of sack-cloth and ashes. Every time they send it out to be pressed, they wish they had seen the last of it. But back it comes, looking shabbier than ever.

Apparently, it never will wear out. Sooner or later, it will have to be sent to the Syrians—or to any one else who wants it.
In effect, the sack-cloth suit could be turned in as first payment on an outfit of purple and fine linen.

And the moral of all this is that we shall be depressed as long as we exalt Saving as Economic Salvation, and condemn Spending as Economic Sin.

Some day it may dawn on us that "easy go" on the part of buyers is the only thing that will bring back "easy going" on the part of business.

Prosperity, as we have said before, is a buy-product.

Depression, for the same reason, is a "don't buy" product.

Thoughts On Modern Life

By GLENN FRANK

GET-ALONG-ABLENESS

As an executive I have had to deal again and again with singularly able men who had proved utterly useless in responsible positions.

They had failed to master the art of what Albert Edward Wig-gum, in his The Marks of an Educated Man, of which I spoke yesterday, calls get-along-ableness.

Get-along-ableness is simply the technical term, social intelligence, translated into English as understood by the common run of us.
In two richly detailed chapters on this social intelligence that enables a man to get along with other people, Mr. Wiggum arrives at ten interesting conclusions about getting along with others which I want to tabulate in the hopes that the readers of this column may see fit to go more deeply into the analysis the book brings to each:

(1) You must learn that human conduct is predictable.

(2) Watch what the other fellow does in response to what you do;
in other words, study without prejudice or emotion how he reacts to your behavior.

(3) Deliberately overestimate the value and importance of the other fellow's point of view.

(4) You must be genuinely yourself and not try to play a dramatic part or put on airs or be somebody else.

(5) You cannot get along with other people if you carry old grudges.

(6) If you interfere with other people's habit responses, you are going to set up irritation.

(7) Bright people must learn to be tolerant and patient with slower people.

(8) You must learn to compare yourself frankly, fairly, and honestly with other people.

(9) You must form an adequate judgment of your own capacities and a just appreciation of your own limitations.

(10) You will make more friends in a week by getting yourself genuinely interested in other people than you can in a year by trying to get other people interested in you.

These statements are not garbed in the jargon of the psychological laboratory. They have a good journalistic swing to them. Every one of them is, however, based upon careful psychological experimentation and observation.

OUR CHILDREN

By ANGELO PATRI

HIGH SCHOOL FAILURE

A certain group of children enter high school when they should have entered some other sort of training school. That is not their fault but ours because they could only go to the place we offered. We offered the wrong course and they failed. That group we will soon take care of in school of adjusted curricula.

How about the other great group of children who fail? They did good work in the elementary schools.
There is no reason inherent in their natures to prevent their doing good work in high school. Yet they fail. They come unprepared.
They are late and absent. They do careless untidy work that shows lack of thought and lack of time.

These are adolescent children.
They are growing very fast. Their growth uses up a tremendous amount of energy and unless they are carefully guarded they exhaust themselves on things that do not help them in school. They like to dance, to go to parties, to take long rides. After a day in school they have no energy for this. Putting their desires first they discover that there is no time, no strength, no desire for school work.

The high school pupil ought to be almost self directing but the sad truth of the matter is that he is far from it. This makes things very difficult for both parents and teachers. These pupils feel grown up. They feel more self reliant, more independent than they will ever feel again. They reverence their own individuality more than they will ever care to think about in later years. They resent any discipline, any restraint. Yet they must be disciplined and they must be restrained if high school is to mean anything.

If the child has been trained so that he trusts authority the whole matter takes care of itself. That child does not fail in high school.
If the child is the sort that has always resented restraint the difficulty is troubled. He will fail in high school. Adolescence is not the time to begin restraining and controlling a child. Now we must manage as best we can if we have such a task on our hands.

It is wise to begin the very first month and agree with the child that his main interest is to be his work in high school. He is to program his work and see that each day's lessons are complete, no putting off, no backwork. He and she are to have certain hours of freedom.
They must play as well as work but in adolescence this play merges in their work and so is closely related. After school activities are this sort of recreation and very valuable. Even these are to be restricted for the first year or two until the pupil has found himself.

Only weak and parties are allowed and these are to be supervised.
I firmly believe that all such parties need to be well chaperoned, the guests well chosen, and the atmosphere of good breeding sustained in and about them. This is not easy but it is not easy to tide an adolescent over this trying time. The high school must be supplemented by the home if the pupil is to succeed. This is true here in greater force than in any other time in the child's career. Home holds the balance, not the school.

BATTLE OF TRAFALGAR

On Oct. 21, 1805, Napoleon gave up whatever plans he had of invading England when the allied French and Spanish fleets were badly defeated by Lord Nelson, British admiral, off Cape Trafalgar.
The victory not only gave England a memorable naval victory but prestige on the seas, which it has since maintained.

The day before the battle the allied fleet of 33 ships ventured to put to sea, but they were met by Nelson with 27 ships. The British admiral had previously watched their maneuvers and sensed their movements immediately.

Before the fight started, Nelson gave his famous signal, "England expects that every man will do his duty." After a desperate fight, 18 of the enemy ships were captured and the rest dispersed. Nelson was mortally wounded and his last words were, "Thank God, I have done my duty."

The importance of Nelson's victory may be had from this appreciation: "At Trafalgar they (the allied fleets) had plenty of room to maneuver, yet they could not escape, such was the paralyzing effect of Nelson's tactics. Nelson had solved a problem that had puzzled British admirals for a century—namely, how to prevent the French making off while most of their fleet was still more or less intact. For this reason Trafalgar is regarded as the greatest of naval battles, and Nelson as the greatest of admirals."
